Nothing can be learned definitely as to the day when the president will return to tions: "Resolved, That many inquiries having been received by the New York cotton exchange as to whether or not the use of what is known as sugar bag cloth in covering cotton is contrary to the rules of the exchange, the secretary is instructed to advise the southern exchanges and others fact that cotton covered by such bagging constitutes a good delivery under the rules of this exchange."

REFUSED TO MARRY AGAIN.

Mrs. Byrd's Cure Is Not as Complete as Was Hoped.

New York, August 21 .- (Special.)-A romantic story reached its climax during the visit to this city last week of Charles P. Byrd, an Atlanta publisher. Only a month ago he had obtained a divorce from his wife, who had lived in this city since January, 1893. Mrs. Byrd was suffering from a physical ailment and came here for treatment. She was nervous and highly romantic in disposition and became afflicted with a mania as the outcome of her condition, the treatment of which had to be abandoned. Part of her imaginative troubles seemed to be that she had ceased to love her husband and desired a divorce.

Her husband argued that there was no ground for a suit on either side, so she conceived the idea of giving a semblance of guilt to an act on her part which would enable Mr. Byrd to bring an action. In furtherance of this plan she urged Mr. Rockwell, the business partner of her husband, to engage a room at the St. George hotel in Brooklyn and to register there as man and wife. Mr. Rockwell, knowing her malady, consented, but left the room immediately after escorting her to it. Short-ly afterwards they returned to the Wisel-ger house, where Mrs. Byrd lived with her mother, to whom she told what had been done. Byrd satisfied himself thet me insul done. Byrd satisfied himself that no insult had been offered and placed his wife in a private insane asylum in Amfavville, where she remained three months. At the end of that time Mrs. Byrd agreed to return to Atlanta, but when she reached this city she decaned to go back to her husband and threatened to commit suicide unless he procured a divorce. The decree was granted in July.

Last week Mr. Byrd came on to renew his another adjournment from Thursday until suit for his divorced wife's affections and courted her with the ardor of a young lover. She received his advances with apis feared at the treasury department parent favor until he made a formal proposal. Then she became stony and per-sistently refused to marry him, in spite of his pleadings and those of her mother and their nine-year-old boy, Ridley, who accompanied his father. Mr. Byrd was reluctantly compelled to return to his business in Atlanta. The divorced wife acts rationally and will make no explanation except that she has ceased to love Mr. Byrd and will regard him only as a friend. She considers it his duty to marry again, and she hopes to be independent of the income he now sends her.

LARGE FIRE AT MEMPHIS.

Nearly a Quarter of a Million Dollars of Property Destroyed.

Memphis, Tenn., August 21.-A fire started at 1 o'clock this morning in the four-story building at Nos. 367 and 378 Shelby street, occupied by the Mansfield Drug Company, and in less than an an hour's time nearly $250,000 worth of property was destroyed. The fire started among chemicals and oils in the Mansfield building and spread so rapidly that the firemen soon lost control of it. A general alarm was turned in and every engine in the city was brought to the scene. Finding that they could not subdue the flames the firemen devoted their work to saving the adjoining property, and, after an hour's battle, succeeded in confining the fire to the block in which it originated.

Among the heaviest losers are the Mansfield Drug Company, Fader & Co., whole sale grocers, and A. B. Treadwell & Co. wholesale grocers and cotton factors. The Gavoso house was endangered and the guests prepared to leave the building. At 4 o'clock the walls of the Fader & Mansfield building fell. Chief Ryan was thrown down and it was thought that he was killed, but finally he crawled out unhurt. At 5 o'clock the fire was under control. FIRE AT BIRMINGHAM. Chief Mullen's Arm Broken at a Fire

It bid fair to be in the heart of the city. It bid fair to be a great blaze, but the department responded promptly and soon had the fire under control. Chief Mullen, who only this morning returned from Montreal, where he has been attending the fire chiefs' convention, had an arm broken, and Captain Rolls, of the north side department had an arm broken and was otherwise bruised by the falling in of the upper flooring in the other building. Altgeld Writes to Pullman, but Employes in One Mill Accept the Does Not Get a Reply.

AID IS AT HAND FOR THE SUFFERERS

A Clergyman Declares That Bents Were Higher at Pullman Than at Neighboring Towns.

Chicago, August 21,-Officials of the American Railway Union and local labor leaders are much pleased with the methods of the national strike committee so far. Several of them have expressed themselves as satisfied that both sides of the question will receive a fair and impartial hearing.

The first witness put upon the stand this morning was Michael J. Carroll, editor of The Eight Hour Herald, Mr. Carroll believed the government should own railroads. This, he said, was the true solution of the labor problem. He cited the situation in Australia, where the government owns the telegraph lines, as proof that his ideas were practicable.

Malcolm McDowell, a reporter for a morning paper, testified next. He had seen cars overturned and other overt acts, but could not say whether the work had been done by members of the American Railway Union or not. He did not believe that many railroad men were engaged in these acts. Thomas W. Heathcote, chairman of the Pullman strike committee, was recalled. He declared that the Pullman employes had no alternative but to strike. Rev. W. H. Wickman, the Swedish minister at Pullman, told of the reduction of his parishioners' wages. He said that the Swedish laborers at Pullman were made to pay more rent at Pullman than at Roseland or other places in the neighborhood. "Why: then," asked Chairman Wright, "do not the men live in Roseland or vicin-

"They are commanded to live in Pullman on pain of dismissal. Even where men own homes outside of Pullman if work becomes slack these men are the first laid off." Mr. Wickman told of the case of an employe who was injured in the Pullman shops and obliged to stay in the hospital for nine weeks. During this time the company charged his rent for his house in Pullman, refused to pay him any damages and cut down his wages when he returned from the hospital because his injury prevented his doing as much work as formerly.

H. I. Cleveland, a reporter for a morning paper, gave his experience during the strike. He had seen rioting in several places, but thought those engaged in overt acts were roughs and rowdles, and that few. or none of them, were railroad men. Mr. Cleveland joined with the two reporters who preceded him in scoring the United States deputy marshals. Roughs Did the Most of It.

Herman E. Dutton gave his observations as a reporter for two morning papers at different times during the strike. He had seen but few railroad men engaged in rioting. Other reporters have similar views and testimony at the afternoon session

Governor Altgeld this morning sent a let-ter to George M. Pullman, in which he outlined the desperate condition of affairs among the strikers at Pullman and invited Mr. Pullman to call on him and devise means of relief for the 1.600 starving families in his town. As yet the governor has received no reply from Mr. Pullman. The Pullman relief committee was informed by the governor that immediate aid was at hand for the sufferers, but he declined to name its source.

"While I can say that relief will be at hand at once," said he, "I cannot at present define what shall be done to afford substantial help. There are three ways of se-curing the assistance which must be had at once. There is the governor's fund, which will not permit of any considerable draft, and there is also a possibility of convening the legislature for the purpose of making an appropriation, but that plan would take too long. Then the way is open for me to issue a proclamation to the people of the state, asking them to make charitable con-

RIOT IN CHICAGO.

Strikers Attack Italians Who Had Taken Their Places.

Chicago, August 21.-A serious riot between striking laborers, their sympathizers and a gang of Italians who had taken their places, was narrowly averted this morning by the quick interference of the police at Archer avenue and the Lake Shore tracks. At this point the Rock Island and Lake Shore railroads are beginning the work of elevating their tracks. When the Italian laborers assembled for work a mob of 1,500 men, women and boys gathered in half an hour. They blocked the tracks and drove the laborers from their work, throwing stones, coupling pins and other missiles at the fleeing foreigners. Detective Mulvaney, of the Lake Shore railroad, was knocked down by a stone when he tried to talk to the mob. The sight of the police made the mob scatter and work was resumed.

How It Is at New Bedford. New Bedford, Mass., August 21.—The pleasant visions of some that the great strike of the textile operators would prove a huge fizzle and only a temporary ripple on the surface of the industrial sea, by the developments of today are shown to be based upon a most superficial and hollow view of the conditions and of the actual

The conclusion was jumped at by some that inasmuch as the mills known as the Howland plant had conceded the old schedule of wages to their employes, the other cotton manufacturing establishments in the city would hasten to follow their lead. Such as have taken this view seem to have lost sight of a very important circumstance in connection with the complication. At the time of the meeting of the mill men for the purpose of arranging for the cut-down William D. Howland was not in the city, and no representative of the Roth or Howland corporations, or of the New Bedford Manufacturing Company, was present. There are not a few who do not hesitate to say that this was not a coincidence. After a long consideration of the situation, and with a reasonable assurance that the operatives would not fight, regardless of what Mr. Howland's views or course might be, the mills decided to post notice of a cut-down.

Howland Pays the Old Scale. Howland might do in regard to the enforce ing of the notices, the operatives gener ally from the first felt that he would make his employes the concessions they desired rather than see the pleasant relations that have existed between them ruptured. It is not to be supposed for a minute that the other manufacturers were not as well informed in this regard as the operatives. Yet, in view of all the conditions, the notices were posted. The conditions in the yarn and cloth mills are widely dissimilar. It is generally agreed that those mills producing yarn alone are finding a much better market for their goods than is found for cloth. In the case of manufacturers of yarn it is a serious matter to lose a buyer, as the identity of their product is completely unknown to the general public, who purchase it under the brand of other manufacturers, who make it into cloth. This is not, of course, case with the product of the cloth

When there is any movement in cloth the opportunity to dispose of goods is always open to cloth producing mills. It is a common thing for a retail buyer who is. favoraby impressed with a particular brand of cloth to call for it over the counter of the retailer, and thus the mills are con-stantly brought face to face with the con-In the case of the yarn mill trade once diverted may never be regained; con-sequently it is of the utmost importance that it should fill all of its orders. It is possible for a cloth producing mill to re-main idle for a protracted term and still regain its prestige in the market No doubt these considerations have been given weight.

GOVERNOR ALTGELD'S APPEAL For Food to Supply the Needs of the Poor of Pullman.

Chicago, August 21.-After making a thorough investigation of the conditions existing among the employes of the Pull-man company who participated in the re-cent boycott and strike, Governor Altgeld night issued the following relief appeal:

"To the People of the State of Illinois and Especially Those of the City of Chica and Especially Those of the Chy of Chica-go: There is great distress growing out of the want of food in and around the town of Pullman. More than 1,000 families, or in the neighborhood of 6,000 people, are ut-terly destitute. Nearly four-fifths of them are women and children. The men have en-deavored to get work but were unable to are women and children. The men have endeavored to get work but were unable to do so. I have made a personal examination of the case and learn from the officers of the Pullman company that prior to the strike they had 3,620 names on the pay roll. Yesterday they had 2,220 people at work, but over 600 of these are new men, so that they have only about 1,600 of their old employes at work, leaving about 1,600 that have not been taken back. Several hundred of these have left, but the remainder are unable to go away and have nothing to eat.

"I find that immedately after the beginning of the strike a relief association was formed to provide for the needy, and the books of this association show that 2,643 applications were made by Pullman employes, mostly heads of families, to this association for aid. In fact, nearly all of the employes, except the few hundred who left, have been supported by charity for nearly three months. As a rule they are a superior class of people, industrious, capable and steady, and some of them have worked for the Pullman company for more than ten years. Those who have been given work can get food, but are still in such an impoverished condition that they cannot help their neighbors if they would. The

"On last Saturday it gave to each family two pounds of oat meal and two pounds of corn meal, and having nothing left, it suspended operations, leaving the people in an absolutely helpless condition. The county commissioners of Cook county, as overseers of the poor, have rendered some assistance, but, owing to the limited appropriations, they cannot furnish suffer some assistance.

but, owing to the limited appropriations, they cannot furnish relief.

"We cannot now stop to inquire the cause of this distress. The good people of this state cannot allow women and chirarent by the hundreds to perish by hunger. I, therefore, call upon all humane and charitably disposed citizens to contribute what they can toward giving relief to these people. I am satisfied that any contribution sent to the Pullman relief committee at Kensington will be judiciously distributed.

"I find there a treasurer who has given bond to properly account for all moneys received. JOHN P. ALTGELD,

The governor also sent a communication to the commissioners of Cook county ap-pealing to them, as the officers upon whom devolved the duty of providing for cases of this kind, to do the utmost in their power to furnish immediate assistance to the people in distress.

Altgeld to Pullman. The correspondence between Governor Altgeld and George M. Pullman in relation to the destitution in the town, was given to the press by the governor. It began last Sunday, when the governor sent a telegram to Mr. Pullman from Springfield, in response to a number of appeals made to him by strikers for assistance. In this dispatch the governor tells Mr. Pullman that, although the state of Illinois has not the least desire to meddle in the affairs of the company, it cannot allow a whole community within its borders to perisn of hurger, and informs the president of the company that, unless relief comes, he would either have to call a special session of the legislature to make an appropriation or else issue an appeal to the humane people of the state to give bread to the company's former employes. He adds:

"It seems to me you would prefer to relieve the situation yourself, especially as it has just cost the state upwards of $50,000 to protect your property."

In a letter written today to President Pullman, the governor makes a statement of the condition of the starving people, based on his tour of investigation and inquiry made the day before at Pulman. He tells Mr. Pullman that something must be done, and adds:

"I repeat, it seems to me your company cannot afford to have me appeal to the charity and humanity of the state to save the lives of your old employes, no matter what caused the distress."

He makes the suggestion that the company cancel all ren'ts due to October 1st that all can get something to eat for their families.

Pullman's Reply.

In reply to this letter Mr. Pullman makes a long statement, blaming those who are idle for being in their present condition, and declaring that the company did not know there was any such extended distress as presented by the governor. He says a full force has been engaged for the work in hand and makes the allegation that a considerable number of the men had persistently refused to apply for work at any time, considering themselves still on strike. He says the question of canceling the rents is not one that should be given first attention and announces the policy of the company to be to employ as many men as it is possible to furish work for on full time, because of the erroneous impression half time work would create as to the rate

Governor Altgeld made a caustic reply to Mr. Pullman's letter, refusing to enter into a discussion of the merits of the controversy, and asserting that if the president had seen what the governor had seen in of the sufferers had drawn money from the banks a few weeks ago, as alleged by Mr. Pullman in his letter. He concludes with the statement that as Mr. Pullman had re-fused to do anything to save his old employes from perishing from hunger, the governor would be compelled to appeal to the humanity of the people of Illinois to

The Bodies of a Young Man and Woman Found in Central Park. New York, August 21.—At 7 o'clock this morning Park Officer Thomas Flynn, while patrolling in the ramble in Central park, between the east and west driveways, and opposite Seventy-eighth street, discovered the bodies of a young man and a young woman lying dead on the grass near the pathway. The man was Julius de Marcus, who is supposed to kve at No. 52 East Broadway. The woman was fullette Four-nier, of No. 354 South Fourth street, Brook-

Marcus had a bullet wound through the center of his forehead. He was lying pros-trate across the woman, who was shot di-rectly in the center of the breast. De Marcus held a revolver in his hand. Two of the chambers were empty and three were still loaded. The blood from his head had run down and stained the face and clothes of the woman, whose body was still warm. It was evident that the man had first shot the woman and then killed himself. The man was about thirty years of age and the oman seventeen years old. ried her uncle and was unhappy with him she and Marcus had been lovers previous to her marriage. So they made up their minds to die together. Letters found on their bodies showed that their act had been carefully planned to the last detail.

· Freight Depot Burned. Freight Depot Burned.
Cincinnati, August 21.—The Big Four freight depot, at Third and Wood streets, burned this afternoon. The building was two squares long and was valued, with its contents and adjoining Wagner sleepers and coaches, at $500,000. Owing to the material of which the structure was built the flames could not be checked. A row of frame buildings opposite the depot caught fire several times, but the incipient blaze was extinguished in every case. About twenty of the Wagner sleepers and chair twenty of the Wagner sieepers and chair cars were destroyed. Eudolph Broft, a fireman, was injured by a falling wall. The fire is supposed to have started from a freight handler's pipe.

FITZ IN TOWN

The Champion Middle Weight Was in Atlanta Yesterday.

TO NEW ORLEANS TO MEET CREEDON

Cooked in Fine Condition and Feels Confident of Winning Out-Will Challenge Jim Corbett.

Bob Fitzsimmons, the chmpion middle-weight of the world, was in Atlanta for about ten minutes yesterday.

Fitz was on his way to New Orleans, where he will go into training for his coming turn with Dan Creedon, one of the cleverest men in his class.

A few weeks ago Fitz agreed to take Creedon on for a purse offered by the olympic Club, the same club which pulled off the Sullivan-Corbett fight. It is known and genrally admitted that Fitz is about the best man in the country in his class, and he is now going agaist the Australian and he is now going agaist the Australian so that all bars may be removed between him and Corbett, with whom he appears anxious to have a turn.

Several months ago Fits made some talk about a meeting with the champion heavy-weight, when he was advised by Corbett to get a go with Creedon, whom, Corbett thought, was in Fitz's class before asking a man who held the heavy-weight belt to meet him. Fitz and his friends took the hist and now the lawky, lean blacksmith? hint and now the lanky, lean blacksmith is on his way to the south to fix for the coming turn with Creedon, the Australian. There were only a few people at the depot when Fitz came in, and very few had an opportunity to talk to him.

"I think," he said, "that the go I am to have with Danny will be pie and that I will have it all my own way. Then if I will have it all my own way. Then it Corbett means what he said once, he can have the chance to meet me, for I am certainly going to ask him for a turn. He is talking a good deal about me showing the color of my money and all that, and he knows when he is doing it that I can cover any support of dellers he will nut, up on any number of dollars he will put up on the result of a meeting between us, I don't need much work to put me in shape, for I am always just there. About the only thing I can better now is my wind, and when the night comes for the meeting I'll be on hand ready and willing.

"Creedon is one of the best men of the class in the country and could make it interesting for most of them, but he won't in it this go. He ain't anything but ple one else before he agreed to put on the mits with the Americanized Australian."

Fitz was looking in good condition and was sanguine of winnig out. He spoke of the attempt to get on a turn between Cor-bett and Jackson and said that he did not expect to see the two men meet. He thinks Corbett a good man but says that he is greatly overrated and that he will run to standstill against some of the young-

THE CORBETT-JACKSON FIGHT. Brady Accepts the Offer of the Sloux City Club.

Sioux City, Ia., August 21.-Corbett's manager, William A. Brady, has telegraphed acceptance of the Sloux City Athletic Club's $25,000 offer for the Corbett-Jackson fight. Jackson telegraphed yesterday that he would accept if training expenses were guaranteed him, provided the fight did not take place. The guarantee was made. The club is composed of forty of the leading business and professional men, who have jointly signed a note for the $25,000 to be taken up and the cash deposited with the articles when signed. The club manager does not tell how they expect to pull the fight off. He simply says:

'We can reach any one of four states thin one hour's ride of Sioux City, and we have also two Missouri river islands over which reither Iowa, Nebraska nor South Dakota claims jurisdiction, within afteen minutes of the heart of the city."

"I will not permit this prize fight to occur within the corporate limits of Soux City," said Mayor Fletcher, in speaking of the effort being made to get the match through. "What is more, I doubt if it would be allowed to be fought on Iowa soil. So far as my jurisdiction is concerned. I shall unalterably oppose the movement to have the battle fought here."

Who Is Backing the Scheme?

Sloux City, Ia., August 21.—Sloux City's offer for the Jackson-Corbett fight is still somewhat of a mystery to everybody in the city who is not in the inside of the scheme to bring the fight here. The thing was worked up very quietly, and quietly sprung after all the details were arranged. The men who have appeared on the surface, say they are backed by the best people in the town, and hint at who some of them are; and when the best people are asked about it they all refuse to give any information and deny interest in it. They all believe a prize fight, if it is big enough, is a good thing for a town to have, and they say they will make this the biggest fight that was ever

There is a great division of opinion in the matter in the city. Some declare it is all a fake. The mayor and sheriff say they will have no fighting here, but the promoters of the scheme only smile and say nothing when these statements are re ported to them. They declare they have every corner guarded; that there can be no interference by local or state authorities, and that they will have the fight right in the city. A favorite theory is that this scheme is based on the fact that South Dakota, which lies across the Big Sloux river from the city, has a weak law against prize fighting, and it is believed the authorities in the counties adjoining the city have been induced to take the same liberal and thoroughly modern views of the sub-ject as are entertained by Sioux Citians and that having succeeded in this, they have the assurance that the fight can be pulled off within a range of the suburban service of the city's street car system, in Jackson Not Anxious to Fight.

The telegrams that have been received this afternoon by the Sibux City Athletic Association indicate that Peter Jackson is not anxious to fight Corbett and is willing to get out of it if possible. When the club's offer for the fight first came out he was interviewed in New York and said he would make a statement as soon as he heard from the club personally. He has not wired the club since the offer of a guarantee of training expenses was made, but Richard K. Fox has wired asking it the club will deposit the full amount of the purse with him. This the club will not do.

Corbett has sent word that he would require no further guarantee from the club than a deposit of $2,500 for his expenses. Jackson Not Anxious to Fight.

the Twenty-Fifth Round.

New Orleans, August 21.—There were five thousand spectators seated in the Olympic Ciub arena tonight at 9:15 o'clock when time was called for the twenty-five round scientific glove contest between Stanton Abbott, the champion light weight of England, and Jack Everhardt, of this city, for a purse of $1,590.

Abbott commenced the fight by landing sharp body blow. Some heavy infighting followed near the ropes, Abbott doing the better hitting. In a clinch honors were easy. Both men landed rights and Abbott retired to his corner with a mark on the left eye. In the second round Everhardt landed a left in the stomach. The Englishman seemed to confine his fighting principally to the body. Both landed blows on the head. Abbott landed a left on the face and ran away from a return. The fight continued with but slight variation to the eighth round when Abbott, in a hot rally, in the center of the ring, apparently had the best of it and frequently landed on his opponent's face.

In the ninth there was some hot fighting, and in the tenth and eleventh Abbott had much the best of it, knocking Everhardt down with a left on the face.

At Jerome Park.

New York, August 21 .- The chief features of today's racing at Jerome park were the victories of Simms and the number of scratches. The scratches were made early and only sixteen out of forty went to the post, making an average of four to each There was but little interest manifested in the contests and the odds on favorites did not make the talent too happy. Flames Threaten the Gould Building on Decatur Street.

DELUGED WITH WATER

The Blaze Seems to Have Broken Out Over the American Trust and Bank-ing Company's Office.

The seven-story Gould building on Decatur street, opposite the Kimball house, caught fire at 2:45 o'clock this morning.

In five minutes the flames had burned from the second story through to the top. The fire was confined to the west half of the building, the offices on the east side of the corridor not being damaged.

How the fire started is a mystery. I appeared to have broken out just over the American Trust and Banking Company, which occupies the west half of the first floor. A hole was burned in the ceiling of the first floor, and with this exception the water, the bank's quarters being flooded.

The flames spread over the second floo and burst through the windows on the Edgewood avenue front of the building.

The firemen soon got the flames under control, and it was fortunate that they did, for the blaze was getting dangerously near Adjoining the Gould building is the magnificent new Silvey building which towers above it. This was not damaged, although it would have been in great danger had the fire got a little more headway.

The Gould building was erected eight years ago. It was occupied by offices from pavement to the top floor. It cost about $200,-

Among the occupants of the building are The American Trust and Banking Com pany, Captain James English, president; the Washington Life Insurance Company: Thomas Peters, agent; the Penn Mutual, the National Life, the Edison Phonograph, Messrs. Arnold & Arnold, the United States Life Insurance Company, F. B. Sheppard manager; the Georgia Equipment Company, the Cherokee Coal and Lumber Company, Captain J. F. Burke, W. J. Stevens S. P. McCutcheon, John McLoughlin, Jr., Rogers & Hall, architects, and the Georgia Electric Light Company.

The building is owned by Erastus F. Gould and his building is covered by insurance. The total damage will probably be under $5,000. IN A COMATOSE STATE.

Living Issues May Be Only Sleeping but It Is Very Quiet.

Living Issues, the state alliance organ, was a dead issue for about fifteen hours previous to 9 o'clock yesterday morning during which time it gave rich promise of emaining dead permanently. A bailiff from Justice Orr's court carried the key to the office in his trousers pocket, and for the length of time mentioned, was general manager of the paper.

ror's lien coursed the trouble Mr. C. O. Peavey has been publishing the paper since its birth two years ago. Previous to that time Mr. Peavey, who is an expert and experienced printer, published The Southern Alliance Farmer, which for years was the organ of the state alliance. During all the cuffs and reverses of outrageous fortune he has remained at his post and has seen to it that the paper came out on time.

He has been exceedingly patient. Both of the papers which served as the alliance organ met with many embarrassments and passed through many a crisis. Difficulties, financial and political, assailed them on every side and they were buffeted about in a manner most disagreeable. The Alliance Farmer, the first paper to be started by the alliance, was at last forced to succumb and did so, leaving the field vacant. Mr Mark Irwin, now president of the state alliance, filled the breach by establishing Living Issues, which has been ardent in its advocacy of populism.

Living Issues has not reached the present stage of its history by pleasant stages. Even its own editor once turned upon and sued it for his own salary. This was hardly a marker for other blows which it has restances most unfavorable.

Through this long series of difficulties Mr. Peavey remained on deck at his case, and through his hard work the paper came out week after week in the face of circumstances most unfavorable.

Last week at the meeting of the state alliance at Dublin the final crisis in the history of Living Issues was reached. Up to that time it had been run with alliance money, without a cent of outside capital, but, in a decidedly emphatic manner the alliancemen declared that the funds of the order should no longer be devoted to the publication of the paper.

This was a telling blow. Shorn of its dignity and title Mr. Peavey did not see how nity and title Mr. Peavey did not see how the paper could long survize. He took a few days to consider the matter and late day be-the paper could long survive. He took a few days to consider the matter and late day before yesterday afternoon he went before Justice Orr and took out a laborer's lien, based upon an account of $60, which he held against the alliance for labor.

The paper was placed in the hands of a constable, who went to the office and shut it up. When Editor Irwin reached the olice yesterday morning he found it locked. He soon had an explanation of the trouble.

During the morning the affair was temporarily settled, pending the meeting of the paper committee, which is to be held at the office this afternoon. If the payment of the amount is not arranged for by the committee today Mr. Peavey will again have the office closed and will keep it closed until he gets the amount of the claim specified in the lien and other claims, amounting to more than $200.

The paper committee, of which Editor Irwin 's ex-officio chairman, meets this afternoon at 4 o'clock at alliance headquarters and will consider the question as to whether the paper shall be continued with alliance funds or not. The members of this committee are J. A. Murrah, of Carroll; L. S. Ledbetter, of Polk; J. D. Perkerson, of Cobb; J. W. McGarrity, of Paulding, and A. J. Owens, of Franklin.

City Executive Committee Asked to The city executive committee now nas under advisement a request for a change in the date of the coming city primary.

The request comes from candidates who are interested and from some of the leading business men of the city and the committee is giving the matter a thorough

If the primary takes place on the day which has been fixed, it will be just one week in advance of the day for the state election. This will bring the two election days close together and will cause quite an inconvenience to the voters, as well as to the candidates. Then, too, it will cause all of the liquor houses in the city to close on two days within the week, which is a little often, the liquor men say considering the license tax they pay.

These and other points have been brought to the notice of the city executive committee and that body is now thinking of suggesting a change in the date of the primary, the idea being to fix the date of the city primary the same as the date of the state election, October 3d. This would make it easier for all parties concerned, and would bring out a bigger vote for the state ticket than it would in all probability secure if the election takes place subse quent to the city primary. The executive committee will probably take some cognizance of the matter within the next day or two.

There was practically no change in the race yesterday among those who are asking for city offices. The candidates were all moving about at a lively rate and were doing all that they could do to secure success. The question of the ward meetings was raised at many points where the situation was discussed, and while there was opposition to the meetings, there was an endorsement of them. The first of the ward meetings will be held Friday night and after that the meetings will, in all probability, come thick and fast until all of the wards have acted,

About His Affairs.

Just How Much He Has Used Is Not Made Public—He Has Resigned All the Positions Which; He Held.

Savannah, Ga., August 21.-(Special.) Until now it has not been possible, owing to the depressed mental and physical condition of Colonel C. H. Olmstead, to get an exact or connected statement of his affairs. After informing him they would meet him for this purpose, two of his friends saw him at his home at Beaulieu, Monday afternoon and obtained a full and detailed statement of his indebtedness to these estates of which he had charge. The following, furnished by one of the gentlemen in question, is all that has been or will be given out by them for publication:
"Monday evening Colonel Olmstead, at his home, made a detailed statement of his affairs to two of his friends, showing their exact status. This statement was prepared as soon as his physical and mental condition permitted. Colonel Olmstead returned to the city as soon as his reason asserted itself, with the purpose of making a full and exact statement, and he has done this at the earliest practicable moment for the information of those inter ested. All of the parties interested prefer that this statement be not given to the public and it is, therefore, not furnished

property belonging to theses estates was ed in speculation. The only thing he could use was the negotiable bonds he held. Of these the ordinary's court records disclose that he had in his possession beween $30,000 and $40,000 face value. He had charge as trustee, without bond, of an estate amounting to $12,000 in Georgia 41/2 per cents and Central railroad tripartites for J. W. Barnard and children, of Marierta, and all of these, it is understood, have been used. Of the other bonds mentioned, $15,000 belonged to the property of Harcourt Brigham, minor, and $14,000 to the property of Florence A. Bryan, lunatic. Whether all or only a portion of these has been used, is not definitely known. Colonel Oimstead has resigned as president of curator of the Georgia Historical Society, and his resignation as an elder in the Independent Presbyterian church was acted on last Sunday, when Dr. J. F. Dripps, the pastor, came down from Massachusetts where he is summering, to see about the matter. It is understood that it is not a fact, as has been stated, that his friends are endeavoring to raise a fund to pay off his indebtedness. His mental condition heretofore has been such that he could only talk of his actions from a moral standpoint. D. C. Bacon, who was on his bond as trustee for the Sims estate, which was found intact, left for Atlanta tonight.

IT IS A HUGE WORK. WATSON NOMINATED.

Great Job on Hand

Work in Time to Present It to the Legislature.

Macon, Ga., August 21.—(Special.)—Judge Chifford Anderson, of Macon, is one of the codifiers of the new code of Georgia, by appointment of Governor Northen. At the last session of the legislature a law was passed providing for the codification of the laws by three codifiers to be appointed by the governor, each of whom shall receive the codification. the sum of $3,000 as compensation for his services, one-haif of which shall be paid when the copies of the manuscript have been filed in the executive once, and the balance shall be paid when the work of the codifiers has been accepted or approved by the general assembly. The two other odifiers are ex-Juage John T. Hopkins, of Atlanta, and Colonel Joseph Lamar, of Augusta. The codifiers have been at their work several months, and are far from being done. The labor is immense, and it is so very important that the work has necessarily to be gone slow and with greatestants. essarily to be done slow and with great care and caution. The compensation at-lowed by the legislature is small in compariwith the magnitude and value of the son with the magnitude and value of the work. The counters are required under the law to separately codify the civil and criminal laws of the state, and shall make a full and complete separate index to each of said codifications.

Judge Hopkins is codifying the criminal laws, and Judge Anderson and Colonel Lamar have the civil laws. Judge Anderson's special work is to anotate the decisions of the supreme court. This is a herculean and important task. The codiners are working separated at their respective homes, but they hold occazional meetings and review and revise their work together. It is doubtern if the codiners will complete their labors in time to submit the work to the legislature for its approval in the early part of the coming session, which convenes the fourth Wedfiesday in October. It is barely possible that the codinication will not be finished in time to be submitted to the legislature before adjournment, about the middle of next December, in which event there might be an adjourned session of about one week to receive and pass upon the codinication. The codifiers are learned in law, and when they have mished their big work, Georgia will have a code of which she can be richly proud. Judge Hopkins is codifying the criminal

Some Doubt About His Guilt. Long is a bright mulatto, wears whiskers and answers the description of one of Miss Yates's assailants. Last night Long was arrested at a store near Vineville Branch by parties from Warrior and was taken out there for identification by Miss Yates. He was given a preliminary trial this morning in Warrior and this morning in Warrior and the state of this morning in Warrior and it is said was identified by Miss Yates and was committed to jail. He was brought to town and imprisened. It is thought by some that the parties are not fully satisfied as to the identification, or Long would never have seen Macon again. He would have been

Fred Stuart, a well known white merchant at Vireville Branch, and his clerk declare positively that Long was at Stuart's stor, on Friday from 8 a. m., until 2 p. m., and could not have ommitted the crime which was perpetrated at noon Friday, fifteen miles in the country. Long's father is willing that his son shall suffer if he is guilty, but he believes that he is innocent and will do all in his power to establish his innocence.

Nominated for the Senate. The twenty-first democratic senatorial convention, composed of the counties of Jones, Wilkinson and Twiggs met today at Gordon and nominated W. J. Harrison, of Twiggs, for senator. Mr. Harrison is the present representative from Twiggs in the house. He was nominated for the senate by J. R. Van Buren, of Jones.

J. E. Butler, of Wilkinson, was chairman of the convention. By a rising vote the committee unanimously endorsed Major Bacon for United States senator and instructed Harrison to vote for him, and requested the representatives of Jones, Wil-kinson and Twiggs to yote for him.

LOWERING THE GRADE.

A Big Force at Work on South Pryor Street.

After many months of weary waiting and tedious delay, the residents of South Pryor street were delighted yesterday morning to see the preliminary work of paving the street begin in dead earnest.

Bright and early yesterday morning a small army of workmen and a large number of teams and an immense plow began work on the street, under the supervision of Mr. John Kyle, of the Golden Transfer Company, which has secured the contract to do the grading from the Standard Paying Company, which is to pave the street.

The force working under Mr. Kyle includes 125 men, who are breaking rocks; twenty teams, twenty wagons, twenty drivers and about thirty other graders, besides an immense plow. This large force is working on Pryor street between Mitchell and Fair streets. The cars are still running over these two blocks, but will stop today and passengers will be transferred from one car to another. The grade of the street for two blocks is to be lowered three feet. This will put it on a level with the street at the union depot.

The work of lowering the gas and water pipes was begun yes. mains and the sewer pipes was begun yes-terday. These will have to be lowered three feet also.

The Standard Paving Company sent a man to Louisville yesterday to get a rock crushing machine, and when it arrives it will greatly facilitate the work. This machine grinds rock up as easily as a water mill grinds corn.

chine grinds rock up as easily as a water mill grinds corn.

When the street is properly graded six inches of concrete will be placed on it as a foundation for the paving. Next six inches of sand will be laid on the bed of concrete, and on this sand the vitrified brick pavement will be laid. These bricks are six inches deep, so the depth of the pavement with its foundation will be eighteen inches.

Pryor street, when the paving is finished, will be, with the exception of Peachtree street, the finest drive in the city. Thus the south side will have a drive fully equal to the best on the north side.

Thomson, Ga., August 21 .- (Special.)-The ceople's party of the tenth congressions district held its convention in the courtouse here this morning to nominate a candidate for congress in opposition to Major J. C. C Black, the democratic standardbearer. Thomas E. Watson was unam mously nominated. It was a spiritless as sembly, not even sprinkled with entitus lasm. The delegates did not seem to possess the extravagant hope and confi of success which buoyed them two years ago. Their last defeat seemed to nave chilled their ardor. The most conspicuous part of the convention was the presence of a large number of negro delegates. There was more than a sprinkling of the brothers in black, for there were about as many negro delegates as there were white ones They were referred to as "my colored friends" with the accent on friends.

HOLLAND AND AWTREY Are the Democratic Nominees from

Cobb County. Marietta, Ga., August 21.—(Special.)—Hon. R. N. Holland and Hon. John Awtrey are the democratic nominees for the legislature from Cobb county. The first report sent from here announced that Messrs. Awtrey and Mosely had been nominated, it appearing before the consolidation of the vote of all the precincts from the county that Mr. Mosely, who was in the last legislature, had defeated Mr. Holland.

The returns, however, show that the esti-mates were far from the mark, and the official vote makes Mr. Holland an easy winner, while Mr. Awtrey defeats Mr Mosely by 57 votes Mr. Awtrey is a resident of Acworth,

"It's just this way," explained Thompson, "I got seventy-four miles from Atlanta and then found that I was on the wrong road and had to come back and tramp it over again."

While he was giving this explanation the short man was nervously pulling his coat sleeve and urging him to move on.

"The boys did it," called out the walker as he started away at a quick trot, "they put me on the wrong road."

He did not pause long enough to say who the boys were, but they evidently had played a very distressing joke on the English pedestrian.

Quite a number of Atlantians are spending the month of August at Lithia Springs, and the hot spell of the past two weeks has had the effect of rapidly filling up the hotel with people attracted from Atlanta and neigh-boring cities by the cool preezes and de-lightful air of the Chattahoochee hills. The nights at this season are delightfully cool, and during the day the broad and shady verandas and the beautifully kept ground make the Sweetwater Park an ideal place to rest. Manager Blake reports one of the best seasons that the hotel has ever known. This is probably due to the fact that nothing has been left undone to make the hotel as attractive in all details as possible, the service of the hotel and the dining room being altogether charming and complete. The special rate of 50 cents for the round trip to the hotel on Saturday nights from Atlanta, and the low rate offered by the hotel has had the effect of bringing quite a large crowd every Satur-day night from the city. Miss Daisy Brown, the charming and entertaining daughter of Dr. and Mrs. P. I. Brown, observed the anniversary of her birth at their charming home in West En Monday. There were quite a number of the friends of the young lady present, and the afternoon was, most delightfully passed The interesting feature of the afternoon was a "watermelon cut," the melons coming from the pretty little farm of the young lady's parents and being knived by herself. There were a number of her friends present, and the afternoon was most royally enjoyed by the young people who were for-tunate enough to be among those remembered when the invitations were sent out by Miss Brown and her parents.

A watermelon cutting was given at the Georgia Electric Light Company's plant last night to the visiting young ladies in the city. The party met at the company's office where cars awaited them. They went direct to the plant. There Messrs. H. T. Edgar, W. H. Gibbs and W. Bloxham, generally the company of th eral manager, superintendent and chief en-gineer, respectively, showed them through the plant. Delicious melons were served, after which the party took the cars and rode around the circle. The ladies present were Misses Hart, of Union Point; Kirwen, of Columbus; Trapp, of Anniston; Clarke, of LaGrange; Dillon, of Thomas ville; Pope, of Kentucky; Hodgson, of Athens; Jones, of Albany; Talmadge, of Athens: Walker, of Monroe; Glover, of Marictta; Gibson, of Martetta, Esse Whitfield, of Brunswick; Lillian Whitfield, of Brunswick; Edwards, Haralson, Slaton, Shropshire, Shepherd, Bean. Redwine, Gunther Hemphill, Pope, Boynton, Nurnally, Bell Collier and Gibbs. The chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Edgar, W. H. Gibbs, W. S. Witham, Mrs. Fitzgerald and Mrs.

Mrs. James L. Logan came up yesterday morning from Savannah accompanied by her two little girls, Mary Ella and Lillian, and will visit Mrs. W. S. Parks, 386 Capitol avenue.

Miss Sarah Lefkowitz left yesterday afternoon for Birmingham and Anniston, Ala., where she will spend a few weeks with Mrs. George W. Henderson, accompanied Edgewood has never been more gay than it is at present with such charming visitors as Misses Darby, of Rome; Stokes, of Lumpkin; Swaffield, of Columbia, and Powell, of Atlanta. A most delightful tally-ho drive was given Saturday evening in honor of these young ladies by the young men of Edgewood. The happy party left Edge wood at 8 o'clock and drove into the city. After spending several hours most pleasant ly in the city all returned to the home of Professor Neel, where delightful refresh-ments were served. Those who enjoyed the outing, were: Misses Darby, Powell, Neel, Swaffield, Stoddart, Moreland, Stokes, Harralson and Newman; Dr. Felder, D.: Champlon, Dr. Thomas, Messrs, Stoddart, Watson, Swaffield, Denny, Eckels Harral-will be away several weeks. Mr. J. L. Overby passed through the city Sunday on his way to Buffalo Lithia Springs, and Clarksville, Va., to spend some time with relatives. Many New Orleans and Montgomery peo-ple pass through Atlanta from day to day en rout; for the delightful climate of north-cast Georgia, where they go to wind up the season of the heated term. Mcunt Airy has become a favorite place for the coast people, and there is quite a circle of them to be found at the Mount Airy inn this season It is not surprising that a climate like this should be so attractive to the people of the sweltering cities of the extremely southern region of the Atlantic and gulf states both winter and summer, and the patronage of the popular inn at Mount Airy is such as demands it to be kept open throughout the year. In the winter northern people, seeking a dry, light, airy climate, go to Mount Airy just as the people from the lower border go there in summer time. Miss Ora Landrum, the accom and charming little daughter of Judge Landrum, is in Athens, Ga., visiting friends and relatives. She will be away from me about two weeks.

Mr. Walter C. Warner and Miss Edna E Boatenreiter were quietly married at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. J. B. Boatenreiter, 136 Fraser street, Monday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock. Immediately after the ceremony the happy couple left for New York city, their future home.

Hoodwinking the People.

The following telegram comes to The Constitution with the request that it be published "as a news item." at regular advertising rates:

Fair Notice to Cotton Planters. New York, August 20,—Since the leading cotton manufacturers of New England gave notice that cotton baled in close woven sacking or bagging would be rejected, the movement against that class of covering become general with manufacturers exporters in all parts of the country. As their experience has shown that clo covering causes great damage to cotton by rotting underneath the bagging from lack uses close cloth of any description or and rotten bagging, must expect to have his cotton stripped, picked and re-covered with proper bagging at his expense. low price of new cotton bagging offers no excuse for the use of second-hand or inferior covering.

We publish the information, not as an advertisement but simply to let the people understand the methods of the jute combine. No doubt this same telegram has been sent to every leading paper in the southern states to make it appear that there is a general uprising which will force the cotton planters of the south to submit to the exorbitant demands of the jute trust. The information contained in the above telegram grossly misrepresents the situation, and the telegram is sent out purely for the purpose of deceiving the public in the interest of the jute combine. We trust that the newspapers of the south will not lend their columns to this infamous scheme to rob the people, and that if such telegrams as the above are published in the news columns of any of our papers they will be clearly marked "advertisement," in order that the alleged information may not deceive the people, as it is intended to do.

The Constitution's advertising columns are open to the public, but our news columns are not for sale, more especially when the object of the purchase is the tightening of the screws on those who already have about as much as they can well stand under this

The New England Mill Strike.

Word comes that the posting of wage reductions in the cotton mills of Massachusetts has caused a general strike among the operatives, and that eleven thousand are now idle. The same conditions that brought about a reduction of wages in the cotton mills of Massachusetts will bring about a reduction in all the New England mills, and a large wage-earning population will make a practical protest by going out on a strike.

If these mill operatives understood the situation and appreciated the conditions that now affect the business and manufacturing interests of the country. they would accept the wage reduction and enter their protest at the ballot box. But as the manufacturers themselves are blind to the real situation, and persistently close their eyes to facts that are as plain and as clear as the noonday sun, it is perhaps too much to expect that the mill operatives should take an intelligent view of the condition of affairs.

There is nothing plainer, however. than the fact that, under the single gold standard, with all values shrinking and the prices of all the staple products of human labor gradually declining, wage reduction is inevitable. We have seen the effects of the single gold standard ever since the bank conspiracy of 1893 made it certain that the Sherman law would be repealed, and that we should have no further additions to our volume of standard money. The owners of the cotton mills have felt these effects first in the decline of prices and next in decreased earnings, but they have closed their eyes to the true cause and have continued to mouth about the tariff, clinging to republican fallacies and approving the very measure that has cut down their profits. When employers are blindly ignorant, how can it be expected that their employes shall have light and knowledge?

We presume that the republicans will make an effort to prove to the wage earners of New England that their wages have been reduced as the result of democratic tinkering with the tariff; but if these wage earners were wise they would know that the highest pro-tective duties that capitalistic greed and avarice could suggest could not give them high wages under the British system of finance. They have voted men into power who are in favor of gold netallism invented by British bankers, and now they must accept the consequences. Having the British money system, they must be content with inevitable British rate of wages. The mill strike will end as all othe trikes are bound to end under the single gold standard. The operatives will inally surrender to the inevitable, or the mills will remain closed. The mill owners are as powerless in the matter as the operatives are. They cannot help hemselves. The depression caused by the shrinkage of values and the fall of prices-the result of the increasing value of gold-has limited the buying capacity of the people, narrowed the market for cotton goods and made an irresistible attack on the prosperity of the cotton mills. When the mills suf fer the employes of the mills must suf-

It is curious that the operatives fly as far afield in search of a remedy as their employers do. They imagine that a strike will cure the evil and restore wages, just as their employers imagine that a high tariff will improve business and restore prices. Given the single gold standard, with an increasing demand for gold with which to carry on the business of the world, and the wage earners may prolong their strike till doomsday, and their employers may build up a tariff wall as high as the rim of the milky way. Neither will have any effect on the business situation, nor on the condition of the mills. The remedy is to be found in an increase of the volume of our standard money-money that will pay debts and satisfy obligations. The only remedy that will prove to be at once adequate and safe is the restoration of silver to its old place as debt-paying money. The mill operatives of New England can better their condition and aid the democrats in their work of reform by voting out the goldbugs who represent their section in congress. When silver is remonetized business of all kinds will flourish, the people will be prosperous and wages will be increased.

The City Primary. The primary for the city election is called for September 28th. The regular election for governor and statehouse officers is to be October 3d. It is wrong to hold these two elections six days apart. They should both be held on the same day. It is impossible to change the law so far as the state election is concerned; therefore the city executive committee should meet and change the time to conform to the state law There can be no possible confusion-two ballot boxes can be provided, and the two elections can be held under separate management at the same precincts and the same results be obtained as if the elections were held on separate days.

The business men of the city do not vant to be harassed with two elections so close together. The sentiment of the people of this city has already been expressed on this line, and it is the popular idea in the state to have all the elections possible on the same day. We suggest to the city executive com mittee to take steps to change the day to October 3d, so as to have the city primary on the same day as the state election.

Our Increasing Foreign Trade.

The coming exposition is drawing attention to the matter of southern exports to foreign ports, and the following figures from The Baltimore Manufac turers' Record will doubtless interest most of our readers. They show the port receipts for 1893 and 1894:

Wilmington, N. C	7,062,094	6,661,065
Total	296,156,694	$271,715,014

It will be seen that our gain in 1894 over 1893 is $24,400,000. The Record gives other statistics showing that the total gain for the country is $44,400,000, but more than one half of it comes from southern ports. New steamship lines are increasing our traffic, and under the new tariff we may reasonably expect to draw much of the Spanish-American trade which has up to this time gone to Europe.

Our southern neighbors buy hundreds of millions of dollars worth of products every year that can be furnished in our markets cheaper than they can be purchased in Europe. When these sixty millions of consumers meet our manufacturers and merchants half way they will talk business and come to an understanding. Atlanta is a good halfway house, so to speak, and it is safe to say that there will be a better representation of our varied interests here at our exposition than could be expected in any other city on the continent.

If, under adverse circumstances, our southern ports have increased their trade so largely, the outlook will strike everybody in a roseate way for the future. The exposition will be something more than an object lesson. It will inaugurate a new era of trade.

Our Intelligent Farmers. In an editorial on the work accomplished by the farmers of Georgia during the past few years, The Columbus Enquirer-Sun states some interesting facts. Our contemporary says that the Georgia farmer is beginning to think for himself; he no longer blindly follows the teachings of the demagogue, but works within himself and for himself:

This growth of the spirit of self-thought has not been confined to politics, but it has been applied also to the business in which he is engaged, to the improvement of his methods of agriculture, to the diversifying of crops, and to a more thrifty management of his finances. The result is shown in the marked betterment of his condition. He is more prudent, he is less extravagant, he goes less in debt, and he utilizes more of the resources of his farm, in the increase of his food products make his farm self-supporting. He illustrated this in a most substantial in the last year or two. During the depression that has affected every depression that has affected every chand every interest throughout the count the Georgia farmer has come through with flying colors. He has, of course, fithe effects of it, but his new system thought, and his new system of livin have better equipped him for such advers ties, and have made him well nigh independent. With perseverence on the same ties, and have made him well nigh inde-pendent. With perseverence on the same line the future is full of sunshine and pros-perity for the Georgia farmer. The Constitution, as well as other

Georgia newspapers has called attention to the facts contained in the above on several occasions. In many important respects our farmers are, indeed, in much better condition than they have ever been; they are wiser now than they were a year ago; they have profited by experience, and are working out their problems in a thoughtful, intelligent way; they are reaping wheat now, where once they gathered chaff. And in this connection it is gratifying to note that their praiseworthy efforts on the lines indicated are meeting with substantial encouragement; that the press is standing solidly with them in their industrial reforms, giving stamp of its approval to their worthy work, and advertising their successes in cordial comment. And the farmers are keeping in touch with the press; when hitherto unattempted work is accomplished by them they are not slow to make it known; for the dissemination of it encourages their less fortunate brethren to renewed effort; their experience becomes an example which is followed with profit by

The farmers have been fortunate in colding their own and adding to it under the most trying conditions; but the past is nothing to what may be accomplished in the future. In the words of our Columbus contemporary: "The future is full of sunshine and prosperity for the Georgia farmer.'

No More Folly.

We observe that some of the restless followers of Kolb in Alabama are advocating county meetings all over the state on next Thursday, the 23d, and there is much foolish talk about the Kolbites arming themselves. Noting these things, The Constitution is moved to say that such advice and such action are out of place in any state in this republic-especially in any southern state, where the people are in love with peace and good order. Whatever grievances the followers of Mr. Kolb may have had heretofore-what ever methods were employed against him two years ago-it is certain that he was defeated by the people at the election that occurred a few weeks ago. Under the new election laws, as we understand the matter, there was no possible way for the friends of Colonel Oates to count Mr. Kolb out. He was counted out by the people at the polls.

For this reason we say that all this talk about the Kolbites holding public meetings and arming themselves to right a political wrong, whether real or imaginary, is undemocratic and revolutionary. The overwhelming majority of white voters in Alabama are in favor of peace and good order-in favor of righting their wrongs at the ballot box -and any such movement as that contemplated by the restless partisans of Mr. Kolb is sure to disgust them.

The populists and disaffected democrats of Alabama will have to endure a situation that they themselves are responsible for. If they are the wictims of wrongs, it is because they made those wrongs persible. The whole situation is of their own fashioning, and when they propose to cap the climax of folly by holding public meetings and arming, they place themselves in a very awkward position. This whole movement away from democracy, which in Alabama has resulted in the folly known as Kolbism, is as absurd and as preposterous as anything that was ever conceived of. Affecting to be in favor of reform in state as well as national affairs, the Kolbites have taken the very course necessary to make reform impossible if they could succeed in crippling the party. . If any of the leaders of the democratic party in Alabama are goldbugs, if the party itself leans a little closer to goldbuggery than it has ever leaned before, nobody is responsible for it but those deluded voters who have ranged themselves under Mr. Kolb's leadership. It is owing to their desertion of the party at a critical juncture if there is the slightest tendency in the democratic party of Alabama to endorse strange doctrines.

There never has been any reason or excuse for a third party movement in the south. There is no reasonable difference of opinion on any vital issue that cannot be fairly and fully adjusted within the party. As for the unreasonable issues that have had a certain vogue, they are the invention of designing men who seek to delude the honest voters. To divide the democratic party and cripple it merely for the purpose of allowing ambitious men to advertise themselves, is to postpone the hope of reform legislation.

So far as the democratic party is concerned, it is already engaged in correcting some of the mistakes made two years ago. Some of the men who refused to vote for democratic legislation as a substitute for the Sherman act have already been retired, and two years from now the lines will be so clearly drawn that no goldbug or assistant goldbug will find a resting place in the democratic party-at least in this neigh-

The circulars issued to the country chants in reference to bagging should give them no unnecessary alarm; thirty pound "tare" is taken off in price of bale, and the farmers have the right to place the said thirty pounds on each bale

The silence of Carl Schurz seems to cast a gloom over the civil service reform move-

The Savannah Press is falling out of line. It believes aubstantially in the cial ideas of John Sherman.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

The next state election on the programm is that of Arkansas, which takes place two weeks from next Monday. It is al-leged against the democratic camillate for governor that he once sent a challenge to fight a duel, and against the populist candidate for the same office that he has failed to register. As both these charges if substantiated, would make those widdi-dates ineligible to hold the gubernatorial office under the constitution of that state, the republicans seem to think they stand some sort of a show in the contest. This is their sole reliance, however, and n is not so substantial as it might be.

The Covington Record tells an interestit in that city. Mr. Sutallie bei a clever man, wouldn't of course charge a friend anything for so small a favor, and told him to send on his gourd, but surprised to find that his promise had obit gated him to give away more than a hair barrel of his good cider. ### GEORGIA POLITICAL NOTES.

The Griffin News, commenting on the populist candidate for congress, Mr. W. S.

populist candidate for congress, Mr. W. S. Whitaker, says:

The nomination of W. S. Whitaker by the populists of this district is not one to give alarm to the democrats even if the populists were united upon him. He is a Barnesville lawyer who has attained little distinction in his profession and whose greatest claim to promin-nee at any time was the publication of a poorly printed antiprohibition paper in Barnesville some years ago. When the returns come in next October, giving the democratic nominee in this district probably the biggest majority of any Georgia member, this leading populist of Bibb may allow his tears to flow unrestrainedly."

The Jackson Herald sums up as follows: The Jackson Herald sums up as follows:

"The third party in Hall and Gwinnett counties is drad. Real dead, too, for in the primary in Hall last Saturday 2,171 votes were polled. Both parties polled only 2,700 votes two years ago, and now the democrats voted nearly that number themselves. Gwinnett polled 1,847 votes in a primary last Saturday, and the county will go democratic in October by 1,000 majority."

The Danielsville Monitor tells this political story:

"We heard a good one the other day on the populists of Jackson county. A negro by the name of White, was down in this county, wanting to buy land. He said that county, wanting to buy land. He said that he lived among a crowd of populists, and if they did everything they claimed that they would do, he want d to move away from there and get among democrats, where he could live and hold his property. The party to whom he was talking told him to come on, that Madison was democratic and he could buy land."

The Savannah News makes this comment "The Rome Tribune says that in the event of a deadlock in the legislature on the senatorial election, the Hon. Stive Clay will be put up as a dark horse and elected. There is very little reason to think there will be a deadlock in the legislature. There is nothing in the situation at present that suggests any such contingency. The chances appear to be that one of the candidates now in The Rome Tribune says that in the even any such contingency. The chance to be that one of the candidate view will be elected. Still some que happen in politics."

A convention of democratic delegates representing the countles composing the second congressional district is called to meet in Albany at 12 o'clock noon on Friday, the 31st day of August, for the purpose of nom-inating the democratic candidate of that district for the fifty-fourth congress-Ben

The Griffin News says: "Haynes Thurman was yesterday put out by the populists as their candidate for the legislature from this county. Haynes has always been a democrat, though his father is a republican; and being a rather sersible young man it is very probable that he may imitate the example of the populists first choice and refuse to sacrifice himself in a cause for which there is no possible hope."

Hon. J. A. J. Henderson, of Irwin county, Hon. J. A. J. Henderson, of Irwin county, agrees to submit his candidacy for state senator from the eleventh district to a convention of the democracy of the three counties—Irwin, Telfair and Montgomery—or a primary of Irwin county alone; and says if the latter method of nominating a candidate is adopted he will retire from the race if he does not beat his opponent two to one.

With a solid phalanx of over eleven hunwith a solid plantal of over eleven hun-dred democratic votes in the recent primary, more than half the entire vote of Henry county, to say nothing of the increase in the general election, The Henry County Weekly thinks it is a little interesting to know what our friends, the populists, hope for in continuing the race in Henry.

In the crowd that told stories and talked politics were two men who came as a seri of benediction to the recent New York trip of the Georgia We:kly Press Association.

The first of these to reach the city came in on a morning train. That was Secretary Alf Herrington. Later ex-President Sim Blalock came in, he having made the trip to Savannah by sea. "A large time? Well I should rather think was the way the Hon. Alf greeted stion. "The Georgia editors took the question. "The Georgia editors took the metropolis by storm and saw every-thing above ground. We were in Washington on Atlanta's big day, and you can bet on it that no crowd was ever more enthu-siastic than were the editors when that ex-position bill of Colonel Livingston's passed the house. The editors were in the galler-ies that day and the applause they gave those fellows who made such a splendid fight for the bill was most enthusiasti of the boys are still seeing it-we lost track of some of them. It is his intention to devote his time to the state campaign until the October snows fall upon the grave of Judge Hines's political hopes, then he will tackle his own forlorn hope in the tenth district.

Senator Felix Corput is one of the strong est democrats in Georgia, and one of the best men. He was here for a few hours yesterday, and while in the city spent his time at alliance headquarters. In the even-ing he went on to Griffin to attend the dairymen's convention, which will be in session there today and tomorrow.

"Crop prospects in our section of north Georgia are very favorable so far, but we need some more rain. The corn crop is especially good. Politics? Colonel Corput will devote a good deal of his time during the coming year to alliance affairs, and was in consultation with the other alliance officers yesterday.

Among the well known Georgians who were here yesterday were Messrs. E. R. Hodgson and Harry Hodgson, of Athens; Judge Walter T. Turnbull, of Rome; Colonel Tom Crenshaw, of Griffin; Hon. W. W. Ashburn, of Eastman; Captain Wes W. Ashburn, of Eastman; Captain Wes Murphy, of Columbus, and Mr. W. S. Tar-ver, of Albany.

A marriage with some little romance attached was solemnized at Springfield, Ky. The contracting parties were Mr. Amos W. Waufie, of Kinnicanie N. Y., and Mrs. Mary Floorees, of Springheld. Some time ago an advertisement of a young man who was on the matrimonial market appeared in a Cincinnati paper, and was answered by Mrs. Floorees. A correspondence be-tween the parties began at once, which re-sulted in their marriage Tuesday.

Steamship Association Today.

A FIGHT ON THE BROAD STREET BRIDGE COTTON RATES TO BE DISCUSSED

The Georgia Southern and Florida to Be Sold-Other News and Gossip of the Bail at Home and Abroad.

Many important matters are before the meeting of the Southern Railway and Steamship Association to be held in New York today.

The board of arbitration has been in ses sion two days and has before it some very vital issues to be adjusted before the fall and winter traffic is on hand. One of these is the question of equalization of freights, a question that has been causing more or less trouble ever since there has been an association to manipulate such by the western lines leading into the south. It came up in the effort of the roads that enter the south by way of Cincinnati and Louisville to make such cuts in rates be-low these points named as would allow the through rate from the far west to be no higher than the rates by way of the shorter lines, termed the Cairo route.

The same question is now before the association. The long lines are making a fight to secure the right to make such rates below the Ohio river as will equalize the rates from Chicago making them tally with rates from Chicago, making them tally with the rates from the same point to the same territory in the south.

Arguments have been filed before the board of arbitration for the discussion of the issue, and it is thought that the board will arrive at some decision in the matter in time for the members of the Southern Railway and Steamship Association to become acquainted with the ruling at this meeting of the association.

Another very important matter to come before the members of the association, and before the board of arbitrators, too, is the question of cotton rates from southern points for the season of 1894-95. Last year this question was a vexed one—one that remained unsettled most of the season, finally being smoothed down by the board of arbitration

It is believed that one of the most important questions to come up at this meeting of the board of arbitration will be the matter of cotton differentials, there being the same old fight as to rates from interior points to the ports on the southern coast and to the ports further up on the Atlan-tic, such as Norfolk.

It is believed that the apportionment plan will be agreed to by the members of the association this year, as was in force last season, in the matter of the quantity of cotton handled by the roads forming the association. By the apportionment plan is meant the reasonable and fair division of the cotton crop of the south among the railroads of the south in the matter of transportation.

Last year and the year before the roads agreed to submit their claims to the proper authorities of the association as to how many bales they ought to be allowed to handle throughout the season. They were allowed a fair division based upon the average number of bales they had handled for a number of years past, and thus when one road was found to be getting ahead of its rightful share it would be notified by the commissioner to hold up for awhile on cotton, thus tending to equalize mat-ters as the season advanced on a basis of

It is a reasonable presumption that this It is a reasonable presumption that this will be the plan of operation for the coming season, though nothing at all definite has been agreed upon as yet and no steps have been taken in this direction further than to precipitate it before the men in power to act.

With all these important issues to be adjusted and settled for the busiest season southern railroads have had for many years it is clear that much interest hovers over the New York meeting of the Southern Railway and Steamship Association. The G. S. and F. Situation.

The decision of the Georgia supreme court in the case of the Georgia Southern and Florida affirming the decision of the lower court will cause the sale of the road. The Georgia Southern and Florida has been in the hands of a receiver a long time. The road was thrown into complication several months ago, having been built by the Macon Construction Company, to which it owed, and still owes, much, and, having the bonds of the road in the hands of capitalists in the east, who were anxious guard their rights and interests, when the hard times came.

The road is worth all of $5,000,000, so it is claimed by those familiar with its condition. It has labored under serious financial difficulties ever since it built, but withal has been gradually making its way to the front as a well managed. railroad, and now it is regarded as one of the most desirable southern links to the tropical lands below the Georgia state

The bonded indebtedness of the road is something more than $3,000,000. The floating indebtedness is said to be small. . It is thought that the road will not be such as the car she was coming in on sold within a year but that it will be managed by Receiver Sparks for some time to come and that when the sale is at hand the property will bring a good price.

The sale is forced by the petition of the Mercantile Trust Company of Baltimore, representing the bondholders. It was opposed by the Macon Construction Company, which built the read, and by the Georgia Southern Railway Company.

Having It Hot Out West. Having It Hot Out West.

St. Louis, August A.—Advices from Texas show that a red hot rate war has resulted in hauling passengers from Waco and Houston to this city for $5 cents and If. At Waco round trip tickets over the Missouri, Kansas and Texas to Washington are sold for $25. The rate from Texas points to Washington is on account of the national encampment of the Kights of Pythias. In selling tickets the scalpers allow those desiring it, a rebate at St. Louis Pythias, in selling tickets the scalpers allow those desiring it, a rebate at St. Louis of $34. At Houston the rate for a round trip to St. Louis is $15, but the scalpers are having agents extend the lay-over time at St. Louis on Washington tickets. The scalpers can thus send a man to St. Louis and heak for $1. and back for $1.

Mr. Spencer Buys Another Road. Statesville, N. C., August 21.—The Southern Railway Company purchased at public sale today the Western North Carolin railroad, which runs from Salisbury to Ashe ville, with several branches.

The price paid for the road was $60,000.

This is the last road to be bought by the Southern Railway Company, according to the plan of reorganization by the Drexel, Morgan & Co. people, for the present.

It is learned that the sale of the road, which took place in the sale of the road, which took place in the early forenoon a this place, has been confirmed already. Free Freight Delivery.

The old system of free freight delivery in Atlanta will be restored the 1st of next month and then the freight depots of the city will all present a scene of action and

The restoration of this system is brought about by the action of President and General Manager J. W. Thomas, of the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railroad, declining to allow the other roads entering Atlanta to use the sidetracks and terminal facilities of the Western and Atlantic the handling of cars here in the heart of

The Western and Atlantic, owing to its excellent terminal facilities, has had a firm advantage over the other roads in the handling of freight here, its sidetracks running right into the very heart of the town.

The other roads have their freight depots further out, and it has been a great convenince to them to be allowed by the Western and Atlantic to use its sidetracks to bring their cars to a more desirable point of delivery.

The Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railroad has several times threatened to shut the other lines out of its terminal tracks here, and each time it has met a declaration on the part of the other roads establishing the policy of delivering freight free to the merchants and jobbers of this

This system of free delivery of freights is a great thing for the merchants of the city, but it is no fun for the railroads, costing them about $50,000 a year. It will take effect September 1st.

An Atlanta Policeman Was Arrested, Released and Arrested Again.

One day last week Fanny Gilbert, a mulatto woman, appeared before Judge Landrum and swore out a warrant charging Patrolman William Turner with trespassing.
The case was set by Judge Landrum to be heard yesterday afternoon, and when the case was called the woman was not ou hand to prosecute or testify in the case, and Mr. Turner's attorneys asked for the dismissal of the case. As there was no prosecutor present, Judge Landrum granted the motion and dismissed the case.

Soon after the case had been dismissed Fanny Gilbert made her appearance at the courtroom and explained that she had been delayed in getting to the city by a fuse on the car she was coming in on burning out. As Judge Landrum had disHighest of all in Leavening Power.-Latest U. S. Gov't Report,

The woman claims that about 2 o'clock last Monday morning she was awakened from her sleep at her home in Pittsburg, outside of the city limits, by a loud knock-ing on the door. She arose and, going to the door, asked who was there and what ing on the door. She arose and, going to the door, asked who was there and what was wanted. Turner was at the door, so the woman claims, and demanded admittance, saying that he was a police officer. The woman told him that as she was outside the city limits he had no authority to enter the house. Turner replied that he was a county policeman and that if she did not admit him he would break down the door. The woman says that she again refused to open the door, breaking the glass in his efforts. She seeing that he was determined to enter, opened the door and Turner entered, as he says, to look for a negro, who ae thought was hiding in the house. Not mad-

Scientists are devoting closer attention to food products. Recent examinations of baking powders by Prof. Long, Dr. Haynes, and Prof. Prescott, were made to determine which powder was the purest, highest in leavening strength, most efficient in service, and most economical in cost. They decide that Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder excels in all the essentials of an ideal preparation for household use. They write :-

"Chicago, March 28th, 1894. We have purchased in the open market cans of Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder and also of the other leading brands of baking powders, and have submitted them to chemical analysis. We find that Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder is a pure cream of tartar powder, that it has a considerably greater leavening strength than any of the other baking powders we have ever tested.

An Enemy Seems Determined to Give Him Trouble.

Detective Dave Looney seems to be pursued by some unknown enemy who is determined to cause him trouble. A week ago his stable in the rear of his home at 123 McAfee street was—fired and Sunday night he was robbed. After leaving the police station he went to his home and left his pistol on a table near a window. The pistol was in a rubber scabbard and some one took it from the table during the night. The scabbard was thrown in the yard near the house.

Several years ago Detective Looney arrested Shep Pace, a desperate negro, in an alley on Garnett street, between wnite-hall and Forsyth. Pace resisted and attempted to kill the officer with an iron bar. Looney was forced to shoot and kill him. The pistol taken from his home on Sunday night was the one with which he killed the man. Foreign and Domestic News Co., by private wire to J. C. Knox, manager: The stock market was sluggish in the closing hour and even on a denial of a rumor that President Cleveland intended to veto the tariff bill, the rally, except in Sugar and Gas was feeble and short lived.

There was a suspicion that a big operator had been reducing his line of St. Paul, and this intensified the bearish feeling that had already cropped out in Burlington and Quincy and Rock Island.

The Cammack brokers hammered Burlington and Quincy in the final half hour on gloomier reports of the corn prospects in Nebraska. The elimination of the short interest in the stock also inspired selling for the short account by some of the active traders.

THE COTTON MARKETS.

Market closed nominal: middling 6 9-16e. Atword Violett & Co.'s Cotton Letter. By Private Whe to J. C. Knox, Manager. NEW YORK, August 21.—Spot sales at Liverpool tonay were blow bries. This is very discouraging, however, for the reason that it confirms the unfavorable reports that have been received on Zing side for some time past regarding the condition of the cotton spinning industries in Great Britain, although a greater part of the season they have done exceedingly well, as evidenced by the returns from some of the mills in the way of dividends. If with the large stock at Liverpool sales are only 6,000 to S.000 bales daily it hardly presents an encouraging outlook for any improvement in prices in the near future in this country on the eve, as we are now, of a very free movement perhaps of the new crop. It is very evident, however, that the tonic that the market is in need of is a spot demand and this will become more apparent in the next thirty to sixty days than it is even now. Liverpool lost 2½ points, and this market 2. Port receipts today 2,300 against 2,200 last year.

Closed quiet and steady sairs 15,900 bales. Hubbard, Price & Co.'s Cotton Letter.

NEW YORK, August 21.—Summary of Hubbard Price & Co's, cotton letter: Advices from Liverpool today are of such a character that there appears to be nothing to prevent a further decline in cotton on this side without the support of an active-demand from spinners, the receipts which come to hand will press upon the market and bring about lower prices. There is no disposition on the part of speculation to maintain any interest in the cotton market so long as the receipts and crop accounts operate about the staple. The market at noon today was 4 to 5 points decline from the quotations ruling yesterday, but during the afternoon the continuance of rainy weather from the south and the receipt of reports of boil worms and rust had the effect of closing the market steady. The covering demand was confined entirely to local operators, however, as the market shows no signs of broadening.

The Sun's Cotton Review.

NEW YORK, August 21.—Cotton declined 4 to 5 points, then rallied, and closed 1 to 2 points lower than yesterday and steady, with sales of 66,500 bales. Liverpool declined 3 points, but recovered slightly, and ended quiet at a net decline of 2 to 2% points; spot sales 6,000 bales at a decline of 1.32. In Manchester, yarns were steady; cloths quiet. Spool cotton here was unchanged. Spool cotton here was unchanged.

quiet. Spool cotton here was unchanged, with the market more quiet.

Today's features: Nothing or very little in the news today could be cited as bullish in its bearings on the cotton trade. Liverpool was very dull at lower prices. Manchester was quiet. The spot markets in this country were not promising; most of the crop news was favorable, the receipts at the ports and also at Houston were large and the arrivals at Galveston tomorrow are expected to be 1,200 bales.

Riordan & Co.'s Cotton Letter.

NEW YORK, August 21.—(Special.)— Liverpool showed decided weakness today, and this, together with large receipts of new cotton in Texas, was reflected in a further decline here. January opened at 6.86, and gradually declined to 6.84. During most of the day the tone was easy, but in the last hour many of the shorts manifested a desire to cover causing a clight receiver. a desire to cover, causing a slight recovery. The cless was steady with 788 bid for January. We expect a nervous, fluctuating market for the next few days, but unless we should get very bad crop news or much lighter recepts than last year, we fear the general tendency of the market will be towards lower prices.

CHICAGO, August 2I.—Wheat kept the speculators guessing today. If a trader got started right, he fared well, but a bad beginning resulted in a bad ending and a generally unsatisfactory day all the way through. The range was not an extraordinary one, but there was plenty of irregular action within the limits. The opening was weak and the close strong. September wheat opened from 55 to 54%, declined to 544,6%, advanced to 55%, closing at 554,6%, advanced to 18%, closing at 55%, advanced to 18%, closing at 55%, advanced to 18%, closing at 55%, advanced to be by the professional taient. The only recessions in prices today came when the demand temporarily ceased, but when the buying was resumed the crowd found it difficult to keep prices down. American, 2,979,000 bushels, making total European wheat sundry bushels, making total European wheat sundry bushels. Baltic and sundry ports, 3,360,000. American, 2,979,000 bushels, making total European wheat supplies for the week 6,333,000 bushels. Reports from the threshing machines in southern Minnesota are very favorable and will crowd the 50,000,000 bushel total to its limit, while the Illinois state crop report is very bearish, making the crop over 41,000,000 bushels, the fourth largest crop grown in this state. Slight strength was given to the market on the opening, owing to the receipts of only 471 cars against 700 estimated, but there were no buying orders, and liberal offerings caused a drop of lc from the high point, at which all offerings were absorbed. The shorts who covered yesterday were free sellers at the decline and the market, without any apparent cause, showed unusual strength. It begins to look as though there was an interest strength not visible on the surface, which may come from the great public who believe the price too low to remain, should there be any change for the better in the condition of the country. It is quite apparent that all the low grades are being absorbed for feeding purposes to supply the place of coarse grains. This will only bring the choicest grades to the market, which will prove very attractive to miliers and for exporters. The market closed strong at within %c of the highest point reached today.

The corn market is very sensitive and at within %c of the highest point reached today.

The corn market is very sensitive and easily affected by sensational rumors. The shorts were frightened early on the light receipts and talk of frost. Later they all started on a stampede of a cent per bushel on the government prediction or warm weather. Again sensational reports of prohibiting expertation of corn from Roumania caused about as quick a flight the other way. Contract stocks, 1,118,000 bushels. Estimated receipts of 175 cars tomorrow are very light and not encouraging to short sellers, but the market is exceedingly narrow and easily affected by reports, whether true or not, and it is quite probable that it will be very irregular until the danger from injury by trost is past, which will be at least thirty days. Oats were quiet, but steady prices, a fraction over yesterday's close. Inferings light, but the demand is good, and it seems to us with the light stocks and the injury to the corn and hay crops that oats are not dear at present prices.

Provisions were strong and a shade higher at the opening. Packers were sellers, however, the early strength being apparently on the light receipts of hogs at yards of 12,000.

The Cincinnati Frice Current says; "Considerable rain has fallen the last week in the west, including districts which have suffered severely from drought, but it does not appear that the corn crop has been benefited much thereby other than through helpful influence on maturing portions of the crop. It is likely that the general average position of the crop is not much, if any more, unfavorable than has been previously recognized, although the later information from some localities, including a portion of the Missouri river region of Kansas, have suffered a deterioration which previously was hoped would be averted by rains and which have not been had. These drawbacks are probably balanced by favorable effects where rains have fallen. There is yet much lack of moisture in the west, which is not only being felt on the corn crop, pasture, etc., but also in preventing plowing operations for autumn seeding, although considerable of such work has been accomplished. It is to be noted, however, that where copious rains have fallen there has been important benefit to pasture lands and it is reasonable to look for great further benefit in this way.

"The later returns concerning wheat confirm the previous indications of large yields, and this condition is not confined to winter grain, but is reported from many districts in the northwest. The states of Minnesota, North Dakota and South Dakota are made to promise about 70,000,000 bushels by the government figures, conjured with 77,000,000 last year, the latter being manifestly fully 30,000,000 test that the actual production. A like difference this season would imply 100,000,000 the total spring wheat crop may be counted as not less than 140,000,000 bushels, while the winter wheat is likely to equal or exceed 340,000,000. Current advices refer frequently to the increasing disposition to use wheat in feeding operations, and to restrict the mark. Ing of this grain. It is naturally to be expected that the alarm concerning in reference to feeding material.

The state board of agriculture estimates the wheat yield of Illinois at 41,315,999 hushels; only exceeded three times in the history of the state—1879, 1880 and 1882.

Local signal officers predict a sharp frost for tonight in upper Michigan and a light frost in lower Michigan, His says there were frosts last night in upper Michigan and up-

Pardridge sold a great deal of wheat. Closing board cables: Paris wheat 15 centimes off; flour 50 centimes off; Antwerp unchanged; Berlin 1,6% marks off. Estimated receipts are light and don't en-ourage bears.

Northwestern receipts of wheat: Minne-apolis 160 cars, against 64; Duluth 118 against 106; Chicago 469 against 165; total, 747 against 323.

Liverpool cables: Spot wheat steady and 4d up; futures nominal to steady, 4d up. Corn. spot, firm and unchanged; futures steady and 4d up. Foreign crop reports published by the government in the August pumphlet, just issued, are very favorable for wheat with one or two exceptions. The French harvest, mar completed, the lowest estimates give as 350,000,000 bushels; Austro-Hungary wheat harvest, now all in, close to 200,000,000, quality fine. Great Britain wheat crop is expected to be about 53,000,000. In Russia all indications lead to the belief that considerably bitter results will be obtained than expected. Germany, medium crop of wheat is about assured and a medium crop of rye—about 200,000,000, the Cutcome May Be. DISTILLERS GETTING THEIR WHISKY OUT

Accounts Can Be Settled Quicker Since the Passage of the Sundry Civil Bill.
Court Items and Personals.

The receipts yesterday on whisky sent out from the distilleries were extraordinarily large, amounting to more than $10,000 for the day, and it is probable that they will increase each day until the president signs the bill which incorporates the change of the whisky tax or permits it to become a law after ten days without his circulare.

In the meantime Colonel Trammell, col-lector of internal revenues, is losing sleep ever the complications that may possibly ever the complications that may possibly arise over this very thing.

The distillery people are taking out all the whisky they can while the tax is 30 cents a gallon, since in a few days it will more than likely be $1.10, according to the schedule in the tariff bill. What Colonel Trammell is worrying about, however, is when the schedule will go into effect after when the schedule will go into effect after the signing of the bill by the president, or after it becomes a law at the expira-tion of the ten days without a veto. A decision of the supreme court of the United States, rendered a number or years ago, is authority for the statement that the new tax goes into effect the midnight preceding the day of signing. This would make it rather embarrassing for the collec-tor, as the reports of money collected would have to show up in accordance with the new tax. For instance, if the president had signed the bill late yesterday afternoon, the $10,000, according to the suprem-court decision, would not have been sum ent to cover the amount of whisky stamps

The amount of tax collected yesterday represents something more than 11,000 gallons of whisky; yet this same whisky, had the bill gone into effect, would have to be the bill gone into effect, would have to be accounted for with receipts to the amount of more than $12,000. Colonel Trammell says that there has been a recent decision made by the department, and this is construed to mean that the new tax will take effect the morning after the bill becomes a law. Their Accounts Will Be Paid Quicker. Attached to the sundry civil bill, which was signed some days ago by the president, was a provision which has gladdened the hearts of several officials at the custom house. Among these are Clerk O. C. Ful-ler, Marshal Dunlap and Conector Trammell. Heretofore all accounts from the various offices have had to go through a veritable circumlocution office before payment was ordered. There was a first auditor and a second auditor and so on until the treasury department was reached.

Hereafter, however, the collection of these accounts will not occupy such long these accounts will not occupy such long and uncertain lengths of time. They will now, according to the rider attached to the sundry civil bill, go very nearly direct to the head of the department and there be passed up. A committee investigated the system that has been in vogue for come time and the changes recommended. some time and the changes recommended by them and adopted by congress reduce the number of offices.

It has frequently required from six months to a year to get accounts passed upon, but now that is over and all accounts will find a ready and speedy hearing.

Colonel Stocker Is in Charleston. Surveyor of Customs Stocker is now in Charleston, where he is still at work upon the bonded warehouse scheme. It has not been settled definitely just who will secure the bonded warehouse when it is established, but it is pretty certain that it will be

At present the surveyor of customs is in Charleston, having gone there from Augus-ta. It comes from a good source that Surveyor Stocker is trying to have the Georgia road made a bonded road in order that the goods may be brought over that line from Charleston to this city. It is said that he is pretty certain of success in

A Telegram from Attorney Stetson. Mr. O. C. Fuller, clerk of the United States court, received a telegram from Mr. Stetson, attorney of the Southern railway yesterday. The telegam announces the pur-chase of the Western North Carolina road by the Southern for $500,000, and the confirmation of the sale by Judge Niles, of that district. The telegram also brings information that Judge Bruce, of Alabama, has confirmed at the confirmation that Judge Bruce, of Alabama, has confirmed the sale of the Georgia Pa-cific, which took place here last week.

Both of Them Bound Over.

J. B. F. Hightower and Thomas L. Teal were brought before United States Commissioner Broyles yesterday on the charge of moonshining. They were arrested in Heard county by Deputy Marshal Tanner. They were both bound over in the sum of $100

THAT TAX. MAKING A NEW MAP.

Collector Trammell Doesn't Know What | Uncle Sam Sends Three of His Surveyors to Georgia.

LEARNING ABOUT SEORGIA TOPOGRAPHY

They Leave This Morning for Lawrence-ville, from Which Point They Will Work East.

Three of Uncle Sam's most expert topographers have been sent to Georgia by the interior and revenue departments to make a map of the state.

The party, which is stopping at the Markham house, consists of Mr. H. B. Blair, who has charge of the expedition, Mr. W. C. Cannon, Mr. J. E. Macfarland and Mr. A. B. Houston, a hostler and a cook.

Mr. Blair, under whose direction the work to proceed, has been in the employ of the United States government since 1883. During the period of time that has elapsed since that date, Mr. Blair has made surveys in Tennessee, Georgia, Arkansas and Oklahoma. He says that of these states, he would rather work in Georgia. Oklahoma, he says, is new and consequently entertaining, but Arkansas is a splendid state to keep out of.

Mr. W. C. Cannon is a nephew of Hon.

Joe Cannon, of Illinois, who recently rendered such valuable aid to the Georgia representatives in getting the house to pass the exposition appropriation bill.

Mr. Macfarland is well known throughout the country as a skilful chess player, while Mr. Houston is a young man whose home is in Decatur, Ga. He has recently graduated from college, and tolend the surveying from college and joined the surveying

The party, which is a most congenial one, will leave Atlanta early this morning for Lawrenceville, at which point they begin their work. They will go by wagon road, through the country, using to make the trip the outfit which they use in surveying and which consists of three buckboards, one wagon, four horses, four mules, and a complete outfit for camping. They also carry some very fine surveying instruments, among them, a theodolite, and a telescopic alidade. The party will survey, and prepare a map of, a strip of country ninety miles wide and thirty miles long between Lawrenceville and Stone Mountain, taking in the towns of Lincolnton, Athens and Lexing-

The map that the party will prepare will be simply invaluable to the interior and war departments of the United States government, as well as to the railroads and to the public generally. It will show every road and every stream, great or 'small, that is in the territory which it covers. It will also show every house in the country surveyed and its precise location on the road on which it is built. In addition to this, the map will show every hill and every valley and their exact altitude above the level of the case II there is no will be some the level of the case II there is no will be some the level of the case II there is no will be some the level of the case II there is no will be some the level of the case II there is no will be some the level of the case II there is no will be some the level of the case II there is no will be some the level of the case II there is no will be some the level of the case II there is no will be some the level of the case II there is no will be some the level of the case II there is no will be some the level of the case II there is no will be some the level of the case II there is no will be some the level of the case II there is no will be some the level of the case II there is no will be some the level of the case II there is no will be some the level of the case II there is no will be some the level of the case II there is no will be some the level of the case II there is no will be some the level of the case II there is no will be some the level of the case II there is no will be some the level of the case II there is no will be some the level of the the level of the sea. With the ald of this map, a traveler can easily determine the shortest and most direct, the most level or the most hilly route from any given point to any other

If the United States army should for any reason have occasion to march through this state, the commander could, with this map before him, easily determine what route to take and where he could find suitable stopping places. In case of foreign invasion or war of any kind, this map would enable the United States to determine the exact position of the enemy and would show the most advantageous position for

Besides these various uses of the map, it will enable the geological department to make an intelligent survey of the state. When the topographical map of Georgia is completed, it will, when spread out in the interior building at Washington, cover an acre of space, 100x160 feet. The survey of Atlanta and its immediate vicinity was completed some years ago and it shows that the union depot in this city is 1,050 feet above the level of the sea, while the altitude of Stone Mountain, at its apex, is 1,686 feet above sea level.

This survey should have been started in the month of May but was delayed until this time on account of the failure of congress to pass the sundry civil bill, which included the appropriation necessary for the prosecution of the work.

The merit of Hood's Sarsaparilla is not accidently but is the result of careful.

Encourage Children to Ask Questions So universal is the electric telegraph of today that we give but little thought to a simple announcement in our morning news that "Muley Hassan is dead." Some with knitted brow strive to bring back the raveled ends of memory, but can only confusedly remember that the dead man was a ruler of "something or other, somewhere," and, although the dispatch says "sultan of Morocco." little idea have they of Morocco—what kind of country it may be, or what kind of people the sultan ruled. Such readers as these would be immensely benefited if they could have at hand that great and ever ready reference library, the new edition of the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Children, too, should be enouraged to search it daily.

When your children ask you questions of history, biography, science, art, or upon any subject whatever, send them to the Bitannica and let them investigate for inquiry that will develop them into learned men and women. Then when a petty monarch dies, and his death may mean great changes in the geographical and political records of the world, they will be ready to grasp the meaning at once.

If not already provided with a Britannica, lose no time in making application for a set while you can get them at introductory rates and on easy payments. So universal is the electric telegraph of oday that we give but little thought to

Eiseman & Weil, 3 WHITEHALL ST. TREATING THE WRONG DISEASE.

Many times men and women call on their family physicians, suffering, as they magine, one from dyspeysfa, another from heart disease, another from nervous exhaustion or prostration, another with pain here and there, and in this way they all present, alike to themselves and their easy-going and indifferent or over-busy doctor, separate and distinct diseases, for which he prescribes his pills and potions, assuming them to be such, when, in reality, they are all only symptoms caused by some delicate or private disorder. The physician, ignorant of the cause c. suffering, encourages als practice until large bills are made. The suffering patient gets no better, but probably worse by reason of the delay, wrong treatment and ansequent compilations. A proper treatment given and directed to the cause would have entirely removed the disease, th reby dispelling all those distressing symptoms and instituting comfort instead of prolonged misery.

DR. HATHAWAY & CO., who make a true and genuiue specialty of delicate and private diseases peculiar to men and women explain their remarkable success to this fact. They study each case thoroughly and direct their treatment to the cause. This enables them to ture where others have failed. They are the acknowledged seaders in their specialty.

When one reflects how many hours of labor, how many sacrifices and denials are inclosed within the disc of that shining bit of precious metal we call "dollar." what wonder people hesitate to part with it, except for value received?..... One man goes to a bargain store and buys something "cheap" (?) half a dozen times a year. Another man goes to a good store and buys something good two times a year. No matter what they pay, the man that goes to the good store gets the best of it, but the fact generally is that the bargain-store man pays more than the other in the long run......In these piping times of keen competition the slicking-up process takes the place of honest work and material. Too much soap-too little sewing. Some Clothing looks better than it really is-other Clothing is better than it really looks. That's ours. We believe that a garment should be honestly made and well trim med, as well as stylish and perfect fitting, so that it will hold its shape regardless of the wear and weather. That's the sort of Clothes we offer you-at low-

LUCKY THIRTEEN.

That Number of Georgia Counties Show No Falling Off in Tax Values."

ALARMING SLUMP IN FULTON COUNTY

Every County in the State, but Thirteen, Shows a Falling Off in the Re- turns for the Year.

Thirteen is the Lucky number of Georgia counties that show an increase of values in their tax returns.

As stated yesterday, the returns from the stated yesterday, the returns from an alarming falling off, Fulton show an alarming falling amounting to $5,609,215. The tax returns for Fulton county for 1893 amounted to $58,685,235, while this year they amount to $53,076,020, showing a decrease in values, as returned, of $5,609,215 for the year.

The total polls in the county are given at 7,945 of which number 6,640 are white and 1,305 are colored. The total value of real estate in the county is given as $33,225,-871. The banking capital of Atlanta is $2,112,-660, while the money, notes, and bonds held outside of the banks amount to $6,200,978. The colored people of the county own property worth $1,253,150.

According to the books the county contains 165 lawyers, 160 doctors, 13 dentists and two presidents of rail roads.

Down, Down the Values Go. The great falling off of Fulton's tax eturn-$5,609,215-but caps the climax of a The great falling off of Futions date return—$5,609,215—but caps the climax of a tumble which has been going on in nearly every county in the state. So universal is the compression that the effect of the financial legislation of the past two years may be easily seen. Of the 137 counties of the state, thirteen only show an aggregate increase of $314,285. The balance of the counties—five not heard from—show a decrease of $20,247,349. Of the counties not heard from, Bibb, Floyd and Bartow are heavy taxpayers. If they keep up the record of corresponding counties, they will show a decrease of $1,500,000.

Died at the Kimball. A pathetic death occurred at the Kimball case yesterday morning, and one that will one who reads about it.

every one who reads about it.

Mr. F. Mollenhagen, a salesman for the house of Rogge & Koch, Baltimore, Md., arrived in the city a few days ago, on his way home from New Orleans. He was not able to continue his trip, and was too feeble to sign the hotel register. A room was propared for him, and a physician summoned. In spite of the best attention which strangers could render the sick patient he continued to grow worte until the end came at an early hour yesterday morning.

Mr. Mollenhagen was fifty-three years of age, and one of the best traveling men on the road. He had frequently made business trips to this city.

A telegram announcing his death was sent to Baltimore yesterday by the manager of the Kimball and the remains will be forwarded to that city this morning.

Bis Position on Prohibition and Woman Sufrage Defended—Full Text of the Two Communications.

The latest phase of the Candler-So controversy is furnished by an open letter from Mrs. W. C. Sibley, president of the Georgia Woman's Christian Temperance Union, in which she arraigns Dr. Candier for his position in the matter.

It not only involves the question of prohibition, but touches in an interesting way upon woman suffrage and the propriety of women appearing in public.

Mrs. Sibley's letter was sent to The Constitution last week. Noting its contents, the editor of The Constitution mailed it to Dr. Warren A. Candler for his perusal and to give him an opportunity to make reply, the idea being to present both comications at the same time.

Dr. Candler has written a card in re sponse, and /below are presented both communications. They will furnish interesting reading to the public: Mrs. Sibley's Card.

Mrs. Sibley's Card.

"Bath, Richmond County, Georgia, August 15, 184.—Editor, Constitution: As Professor Henry A Scomp recently resigned from Emory coilege, after eighteen years of faithful service to that noble Methodist institution as the beloved and honored instructor of thousands of young men of Georgia and of other states, a prominent leader, also, in the temperance cause has been compelled to withdraw from that in stitution on account of persecution, because of his devotion to the prohibition movement and friendship to the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, that organization requests the privilege of presenting a few facts; that his friends, numbering many thousands, who are, as yet, unaware of the crue reason of his resignation, may understand it.

we learn that Dr. Candler now atwhich we learn that Dr. Candler now attempts to excuse his warfare against him, the Woman's Temperance Union would feel that it had no right to interfere, however much they might feel inclined to ask that, if a failure as a teacher, how then was he allowed to remain in that important position for eighteen years, imposing upon the patrons of that institution? and why, of all who have had charge and oversight om Emory, that it remained alone for Dr. Candler, Professor Scomp's old pupil and perhaps teacher of all he knew of Greek, to find out, and at this late date?

of Greek, to find out, and at this late date?

"The injustice and incorrectness—to use the mildest term—of such a statement is so palpable as not to be accredited. And, in addition to this, the well known fact that Professor Scomp is one of the ablest Greek scholars in the country, having lived a number of years in Greece to perfect himself in that language, and that a number of his pupils have become prominent instructors in the language, notably, a professor in the State university of Georgia.

"No, Mr. Editor, Dr. Candler's hostility to Professor Scomp, proceeds from his refusal to withdraw from the probibition party and to discountenance the Woman's Christian Temperance Union at Dr. Candler's bidding.

party and to discountenance the woman's Christian Temperance Union at Dr. Candler's bidding.

"In 1891. when Professor Scomp introduced a resolution in the State Temperance Allance convention in Atlanta, endorsing woman's work upon the platform and wherever else God might call her. Dr. Candler afterwards assailed him about it, denouncing the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, declaring 'their object to be woman suffrage,' than which he would prefer to have a saloon upon every other fence corner and bawdy houses between.

"In 1892 Dr. Candler threatened Professor Scomp that 'if he did nor withdraw from the Bidwell ticket, prohibition nominee for president of the United States, and discontinue his prohibition cause he would cause him to lose his chair in college,' thus attempting to throttie and control Professor Scomp's political action, while reserving to himself free course as a democrat and supporter of the liquor traffic!

"In 1893 Dr. Candler demanded that the in 1893 Dr. Candler demanded that the Woman's Christian Temperance Umon, of Georgia, should secede from the national union; or he would use his influence to urge that the doors of the Methodist church, south, should be closed against them. And it was at his instigation and misrepresentation that the North Georgia conference—hitherto its stanchest supporter—refused to south, should be closed against them.' And it was at his instigation and misrepresentation that the North Georgia conference—hitherto its stanchest supporter—refused to longer endorse the Woman's Christian Temperance Union. (At the next conference they withdrew that action.) The Georgia union—the Oxford union (Mrs. Scomp its president) among them—refused to accede to his demand, repledging its loyalty to the national organization and pursuing its work in the usual tenor of its way. Since which time Dr. Candier's hostility has known no bounds. He has denounced those consecrated Christian women—the majority of them being members of his own church—as 'woman suffragists,' 'short-haired female agitators,' 'platform screamers,' Jezebeis,' etc., even going so far in his animosity as to utter the unchristian and murderous wish that, that grand and noble world's leader of the temperance cause, Miss Frances E. Willard, might be taken from the scene of agitation and action with the grip. Miss Willard, with the eyes of the world upon her, in admiration and bidding her godspeed for her brave and consecrated in the hearts of millions in thetk, m mf w course, and whose name and fame will live in the hearts of millions in the world long after Dr. Candier will be forgotten in Georgia, might possibly be disturbed by his hatred and evil wishes, but would greet them with a charitable smile and prayer that God would forgive him and open his eyes to the error of his way.

"The Oxford Woman's Christian Temperance Union, of course, from its very environments, has suffered from the effects of Dr. Candler's opposition. The good work of those noble Christian women—women well known in the Methodist church in all good works—has been so crippled till it is now of little worth. He refuses to read the notices of their meetings or to help them in any way; and ignores their work, except to denounce it; when before he took charge of Emory, they had kept up a constant agitation and interest in the temperance work from the shad no stancher friend.

Dr. Candler's Reply.

"Editor Constitution: Concerning the foregoing communication of the honored president of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, I beg to say:

"I. The letter must be taken as personal, though sighed citically, for that organization has had no meeting to authorize such a deliverance, and if it were in session it would doubtless be slow to intendie with the affairs of a church school, about the management of which it could know notaing, and over which it has no authority.

"I. I cannot discuss the affairs of a man with a woman. Mrs. Sibley does not give the reasons why the late professor of Greek was not re-elected. She is as ignorrant of those reasons as she is of the history of my education, when she aimms I was taught Greek by a man of whom I had never so much as heard until after my Greek course had been completed at least two years. She does not know the reasons underlying this case, and has not given them. She has evidently been misinformed—by whom I will not surmise; perhaps by the anonymous correspondent of The New York Volce, who was recently denounced as a slanderer by Bishop Haygood, the president of the board of trustees and for a long time president of the college.

"3. The remarks which Mrs. Sibley attributes to me utterly misrepresents me. The strongest expression I have ever given on the subjects mentioned was given to her in a private letter on April 30, 1832, and all that I said upon these subjects in that letter I give below. In order that the public may know my true position on these subjects, as well as discover the animus of Mrs. Sibley, I give below that part of my letter in full, together with all that she said on the subject in the letter to which I was replying.

"Before giving these extracts, however, a little history is necessary. At a meeting in Boston, Mass., some months before it was asid that Mrs. Sibley had avowed her adhesion to woman's suffrage. It was also known to me that the woman's suffrage induced may be discussed, for there are those who will do so anyhow. "It was known to me also that she had expressed amazement at my wife's opposi-tion to these things and stigmatized be-attitude on the subject as an 'inconsis-

"All these utterances of Mrs. Sibley came to my knowledge in 1822. They surprised and grieved me, despite what I had heard of her avowal of woman's suffrage at Boston a short time before. I had hoped that she was misquoted, for I had hoped that she was misquoted, for I had hoped that she had opposed nobly and earnestly woman's suffrage before the National Wo-Man's Christian Temperance Union at Nashville, Tenn. In 186 or 1824. We had seen from some of the northern delegates. But my information was now too direct to doubt, and I saw by her changed views that some of our best and strongest women were in danger of taking up with that pestilential heresy, even though at first resisting it. All I had heard about Mrs. Sibley's Boston profession of faith in the doctrine was now confirmed. At the same time was now confirmed, at the same time was now confirmed, at the same time was suffrage question as it had been brought into the general and annual conferences of the Methodist church north by the case of the president of the National Woman's Christian Temeprance Union. I saw what trouble chat church had on its hands. Methodist preschers in Georgia, had been active on behalf of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union from its first appearance in the state, and knowing that on account of our acting a majority of its members were also members of our church. I became alarmed for my church. The little more than a month after these utterances of Mrs. Sibley reached me. I had the suffrage question as follows:

"In a little more than a month after these utterances of Mrs. Sibley reached me. I while he had to the woman's christian Temperance Union from its first appearance in the state, and knowing that on account of our acting a majority of its members were also members of our church. I became alarmed for my church. The all title more than a month after these utterances of Mrs. Sibley reached me. I have been church and the characteristic of the woman's Christian Temperance. I would be suffage to the pressure through the reachine the cause of prohibition in the south more than all other causes in the last several years.

"2. They, the woman's suffragists, have already made a fissure in the Northern Methodist church, and they will make a similar fissure in the Southern Methodist church if not resisted at once. The Presbyterian (Mrs. Sibley's church), and Baptist churches have not given the same cordial co-operation to the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, the Methodists have, and we will catch the burden of this load when it comes. Our leaders eee this, and they will not be long in vigorously resisting such a danger. When they do act the Woman's Christian Temperance Union will find where it has blundered.

"3. If woman's suffrags were adopted it would adjourn prohibition over fifty years in the south, if not forewer. The regro women, and the bad women not cumbered with the cares of maternity, would have every advantage and the good women would be at the gratest disadvantage. It would defeat forever prohibition and bring to pass numberless, nameless evils in campaigns worse than drunkenness; for it would introduce into all our elections influences not unlike the Washington lobby. Barrooms are preferable to a Washington lobby as wide as the continent.

"As to not pressing it in Georgia though holding it, that will not do. About $2,500 (I have slope) learned that figure is too large and the information upon which it already rent the northern church and will sooner or later divide ours, if not resisted in its suffrage ideas. Besides we believe the whole basis of the woman's suffrage movement is unscriptural and sinful.

"You must pardon my candid utterances. I do not wish my failure to co-operate further with the Woman's Christian Temperance Union to be misunderstood, and concurred to be coldness for the temperance cause. I am against the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, because it has hurtfully entangled the temperance work with a lot of unscriptural tenefts which hinder us who are trying to fight its battles. Our Georgia women should cut loose from the national Woman's Christian Temperance Union and let them go on the'r way. They have ruined the temperance cause north and they are beginning to injure it in the south."

"That is the strongest utterance I have made on this subject and it was mede priance Union and let them go on their way. They have ruined the temperance cause north and they are beginning to injure it in the south."

"That is the strongest utterance I have made on this subject and it was made privately to the president of the Georgia Woman's Christian Temperance Union before making any public utterance. "The suffrage influence, however, was still passed, and at the session of the North Georgia conference, December, 1892—over six months after my letter to Mrs. Sibley—when a resolution was brought in endorsing the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, I moved it be stricken out. The sainted W. D. Anderson supported, in a strong-speech, as d'd other good men, my motion. I said not a harsh nor denunciatory word—nothing so strong even as my letter to Mrs. Sibley, given above. Finally as a substitute for the metion to strike out, Rev. Dr. J. W. Roberts moved "That we will co-operate with any legitimate temperance organization. To that I agreed and it was passed almost if not quite unanimously. At the next session of the conference, instead of endorsing the Woman's Christian Temperance Union and withdrawing its action of the year before, as Mrs. Sibley claims, the conference passed the following resolution in connection with the report on temperance: That we are gratified at the good work done for temperance and prohibition by the Woman's Christian Temperance Union and other temperance organizations. For that resolution I could have voted. I am gratified at work done for temperance and prohibition by any body. I am gratified at the temperance work done by the Mohammedans even; but I cannot endorse them.

"Now, this is the head and front of my offending, viz: I am opposed to woman's suffrage. For this I am to be set upon, drawn and quartered.

"I repeat it, my views on these matters have had nothing to do with the election of a professor to the chair of Greek in Emory college. As Bishop Haygood, the president of the board of trustees, said some weeks ago, these questions had no more to do with that to the chair of Greek in Emory college.

As Bishop Haygood, the president of the beard of trustees, said some weeks ago, these questions had no more to do with that matter than did the upturn of the nose of Socrates have to do with the color of Nero's eyes. It is fair to presume that the trustees appointed to manage a Methodist college know what they are doing. Acting with full knowledge of all the reasons for the change—none of which Mrs. Sibley has given—they elected another person professor of Greek in Emory college a day before the retiring professor declined re-election, and when it was not known that he would decline. After the whole case had been passed upon, including a twenty-six-page communication from the retiring professor, in which there were passages marvelously similar to some or the quoted sentences in Mrs. Sibleys place the board of trustees unanimously passed the following resolution:

"Resolved, The having carefully read and considered Professor Scomp's communication to the board of trustees unanimously policy oliege, we finally endorse President Candler's administration."

"It would be well for my friend, Mrs. Sibley, to go slowly in accepting ex parte statements, and upon them dragging the organization over which she presides into a matter which does not concern it. I take it that that body will not thank her for thrusting it into this matter as if it were a meddlesome organization inclined to nothing to say.

of his children had been in an aitercation.

At the dinner table Alderman is said to have become excited and said before he would go through the suffering he had passed through again, he would feel like taking his pistol and killing his two enridren and then himself. This trightened Mrs. Nix and her husband preferred charges against the patrolman.

The Nix family and Alderman are members of Payne's chapel and after the case had been made several members of the church made an effort to have the again settled, but could not do so.

Dr. Christian, pastor of the church, went to Mr. Nix and asked him to withdraw the charges and said he was sorry for the patrolman's two little girls, who would be left without support if their father's salary was stopped. Nix then went to Alderman and told him if he wand move out of the neighborhood he would withdraw the charges temporarily.

Mr. Alderman's wife died just before he went to the Nix house, and was an invalid several years. In making his statement to the board he did not deny having said what he was charged with and spoke of his trouble.

AT LAKE DEMOREST.

A Large Number of Atlanta Fecpl) Attending the Chantauqua Assembly.

W. JENNINGS DEMOREST INTERVIEWED

He Talks of the Relationship Existing Be tween Capital and Labor-The Views of a Successful Business Man.

The little town of Demorest on the Blue Ridge and Atlantic railroad, about four miles from Rabun Gap Junction, in the northeast corner of the state, is rapidly making a name for itself in the literary Situated in the very heart of the moun tains, in sight of Yonah and almost in echo distance of the rumoling cataracts of Tallulah, this little village, scattered over the rough heights and presenting a picture of thrifty, peaceful and contented homes, is little short of a prodigy. No oth r town in the brief space of three years has made such a brilliant record in its mercantile and business growth, and yet, at the same time, grouped about its fireside more of the cultured atmosphere of the ideal community.

The north astern chautauqua which is now in session at Lake Demorest, has drawn to that locality much of the local talent and appreciative patronage of this city. Among those who have contributed to the pleasure and information of the assembly are Mr. L. P. Hills, the bright and original poet-humorist; Miss Minnie Quinn, who has been in charge of the elocution class; Miss Kate Massey, Miss Bunnie Love, Miss Wingfield, Miss Bessie Rathbun, Professor Rathbun, Rev. C. P. Williamson, Rev. A. R. Holderby, Rev. William Shaw and several others. Rev. R. V. Atkisson goes up to deliver one of his eloquent and able lectures this afternoon.

Mr. W. Jennings Demorest, the millionaire philanthropist, in whose honor the little town was christened, is among the visitors, and has been the recipient of much attention. A public reception was tendered him last Monday evening, at which a large multitude was gathered. The honors of the occasion were shared by his fascinating and brilliant wife who has been with him in most of his travels and has been the inspiration of much of his philanthropy.

On Capital and Labor. "I have been deeply impressed by my visit to this section," said Mr. Demorest, "and I have many warm, true friends among the southern people. The south, however, like the north, is agitated by the great question of labor and capital, and the need of thought in this direction is becoming more and more imperative every day.

Though my hobby, if you are pleased to so call it, is prohibition, and much of my thought has been directed against the liquor traffic. I have not restricted myself to that problem."

Mr. Democrat. edd.

Mr. Demorest said:

"When it is remembered that all wealth is the savings of labor, and that nine-tenths-in fact ninety-nine hundredths, of the people are wealth owners in the truest sense; that they are all racte or less in the possestant they are all racte or less in the possestant they are all racte or less in the possestant they are the required. sion of the result of their labor, requiring protection and security, it will be seen that any attempt to destroy respect for the product of labor is the most disintegrating ele-ment of selfish greed, without right or just cause for antagonism, even when the wealth of the country is very unevenly di-

"The various questions of finance and the disputes that arise, and which must con-stanly occur between individuals and trade interests, must be settled by some more amicable and judicial adjustment of difficulties than can possibly be secured by such autocratic, ianarchical violence as generally follows selfish coercion by employers, or general strikes at the dictation of ambitious haders or indiscreat lawless. of embitious leaders or indiscreet, lawless workers. "We must have personal independence secure in its relation to capital, wages and labor. And the rights of property must be inviolate. The rights of wages must depend on the free choice, whether belonging to one or many individuals. Property must be secure against mere caprice, or riots of irresponsible parties. We cannot do evil that good may come! Interference with the rights of either property or wages is, therefore, indefensible.

"There is no element of disturbance in soclety that is so fraught with anarchy, and so destructive in results, as this one pas-sion of autocratic dictation by either capital or labor. It is often so insidious and intri-cate in its manifestations that the wonder is that human beings cherishing such selfish impulses can live together in social in tercourse and have any security for their lives or property. It will, therefore, always require much discretion, and often the interposition of law, to adjust these conflicts of interest between labor and capi-

"Government means law, and law must b paramount to individual claims; and all questions or diversities of individual interests should be adjudicated by mutual agreements, generous concession, or legal authority vested in the government.

"But in most cases we must depend largely on a wide diffusion of general intelligence and strong common sense, and a keen no ognition of moral obligation, to adjust and reconcile all these diversities of interest between labor and capital. An intelligent and humane consideration of the relative claims of carital and labor will surely eventuate in the establishment of a just and valid basis of human rights and respect for law; and thus, in time, these divergent impulses of will and passion, these aspirations, inspirations, and ambitions will simply give zest and interest to our otherwise lawless war on each other's rights, and, through generous competition, avoid anarchy and secure to all the peace and archy, and secure to all the peace and prosperity sought by each."

Mr. Demorest will leave for his home archy, and secure to all the peace and prosperity sought by each."

Mr. Demorest will leave for his home in the north this week. This is his first visit to Demorest, and he has been very deeply impressed with the enterprise and thrift of the young town. It is possible though not an assured fact, that he may aid in the erection of a large hotel which is now contemplated.

Demorest is the owner of a number of handsome buildings, in addition to the sheet of water, which is perhaps the largest and most beautiful in north Georgia.

The botany class, which is under the able leadership of Miss Katie B. Massey, of the Girls' High school, is one of the most successful features of the chautauqua. Every morning, immediately after breakfast, the class is taken into the woods and the study of the flowers is thus 170secuted among the haunts in which they display their free-huess are beauty. Miss Massey has been widely complimented upon the success of her work in this urrection.

Miss Bunnie Love has addde to her reputation by the orilliant management which the has brought to the chautauqua work at Demorest, Miss Love is one of the most enthusiastic chautauquans in the state, and her devotion to the cau-e is proverbial.

The concerts on the violin which have been given by Miss Wuertz have increased the popularity which she acquired in Atlant, and her talents have been the toast of the assembly. An entertainment was given by Miss Wuertz, assisted by Mr. L. P. Hills, at Gainesville, Ga., last night.

Miss Minnie Quinn has been unusually successful in the management of her department and her recitations have delighted all who have attended the assembly. Her friends in Atlanth are proud of her lare talents and especially the rare virtues with which they are associated—her sweet womanly grace and modekty.

Professor Rathbuu, the musical director, and his charming daughter, Miss Bessle Rathbun, have furnished a delightful share of the chautauqua exercises. Miss Rathbun was greeted with applause at each appearance last week, and it
